PLANES RUSH AID TO QUAKE ZONE

Peace Parley Rebuffs Russian Demand

U. S. WANTS SQUARE DEAL, SAYS BYRNES

Nations Reject Two-Thirds Rule After Plain Talk By State Secretary.

PARIS—(AP)—The peace conference today rebuffed Soviet Russia's efforts to apply the two-thirds rule, after a plain-speaking address in which Secretary of State Byrnes declared the United States would not be dictated to.

"We haven't fought to dictate to a free world, or to have one of our allies dictate to us," Byrnes said.

"We are not going to gang up against any nation. We will make concessions—but we will not make all the concessions."

* * *

Vote 15 to 6.

The conference voted down 15 6 the Russian move to require a two-thirds vote for adoption of all conference recommendations. The rules committee had rejected the two-thirds proposal by the same vote, but Russia yesterday reopened the issue before the full conference.

Russia still has an ace in the hole, however. She can refuse to recognize any actions taken by less than two-thirds decision, when they come before the foreign ministers' council. This council has veto power over all peace conference decisions.

The conference adopted, 15 to 4, the rules as a whole as proposed by the rules committee. Poland and Czechoslovakia abstained. The rule on voting as adopted is the British compromise under which both two-thirds votes and simple majority decisions would be considered by the foreign ministers' council, but with the two-thirds decisions carrying the greater weight. When this came up Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov said merely:

"We maintain our point of view."

* * *

Delays Action.

The conference postponed until later a Yugoslav proposal to invite Albania to attend "with a consultative voice." Yugoslav Delegate Mosha Pijada said Albania was the first European state "to fall victim to Italian imperialism" and "for six years waged a grim and heroic struggle."

Byrnes, in his attack upon the Russian voting plan, described as "loose and wicked talk" a Soviet charge that voting procedure for the conference was directed by an "Anglo-Saxon bloc."

"Whence comes this talk of blocs?" Byrnes asked. "By what right do those who vote, ballot after ballot, with the Soviet Union, call those of us who do not always agree with the Soviet Union a bloc?

"In our efforts during the past year to make peace and to make peace secure, we have found time and again the rule of unanimity insisted upon not to secure uanimity, not to secure common agreement, but to block action."

VERDICT NEAR?

Prosecutor Says Report on Mystery Death Due Soon.

ASHLAND — A verdict in the week-old mystery death of Mrs. Kate Semler is expected within 48 hours, Prosecutor C. W. Chorpening said today.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation report on fingerprints and blood stains on the cistern where Mrs. Semler's body was found and in the bathroom of her home is expected tomorrow, Chorpening said.

A verdict on the death is expected to follow shortly after receipt of the report, he said.

Russians Balk At Exchange of News

BERLIN —(INS)— American military government officials disclosed today that the Soviets have refused to permit interchange of newspapers among the four zones of Germany.

An official report charged the Russians with blocking negotiations for unhampered circulation for three months. It declared that the Soviet action represented a failure to implement a Potsdam agreement on freedom of the press.

Wins, But Grim Reaper Collects

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(INS)—This is a tale about a man who won the daily double—but never lived to collect.

David Stein, 49, wholesale tobacco and novelty dealer of Millville, N. J., had a ticket in his pocket when he was found dead at the Atlantic City race track. The ticket was one of those rare combinations, in which the owner would collect $736 for his double winners.

But Stein had a weak heart, and had been under treatment for years. Physicians said the shock of winning was too great.

OFFICIALS TRY TO HALT NEW WAGE DEMANDS

Economic High Command Seeks to Avert 2nd Round of Industrial Strife.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman's economic high command made it plain today that it will try to head off a second round of wage increases and another winter of widespread industrial strife.

One official said that the administration intends to stick by its five-months-old "Big Steel" wage formula.

He indicated the government would seek restoration of price ceilings on currently-decontrolled foods and essential cost of living items on Aug. 20. Officials are expected to urge price recontrol for these items at public hearings scheduled next week by the newly-created OPA decontrol board.

Mr. Truman's economic advisers feel that if prices can be held and even rolled back, the CIO and AFL will hold off nationwide drives for higher wages. Both organizations have announced a policy of restraint in wage demands and strikes and a fight against rising prices.

Reveals Strategy.

Reconversion Director John R. Steelman uncovered the administration's strategy to maintain uninterrupted industrial production and curb a further inflationary price-wage race.

He ruled that the government's stabilization policy bars approval of a second round of wage increases for price relief. His decision was the first of its kind since the new policy was established Feb. 14 and may set the pace for smoothing out the bulge in the price line which that policy created.

It does not prohibit second-round wage increases but prevents employers from using them as a basis for requesting price relief.

The employers may go ahead and pay the wage increase but OPA cannot consider them a basis for higher prices.

MORE RAIN DUE

Forecaster Says Drought in State About Over.

"A general rain is in the making."

That was the prediction today of the weatherman who said that rain would cover most of Ohio today and that cooler and partly cloudy conditions would prevail through the weekend.

This afternoon and tonight will remain warm and humid, maintaining the average temperature range of 85 to 64 degrees which was recorded in the Mansfield area during the last 24 hours.

Death Invites Self To Drinking Party

TOLEDO — (U.P.) — Three Kentucky men, who sat drinking denatured alcohol mixed with wine, unaware that a fourth member of their party was dead, were scheduled to appear today at their companion's inquest.

Police identified the victim through social security and selective service cards as George Hicks, 54, Whitley City, Ky. Hicks' three companions were held on charges of being drunk and disorderly.

CONFESSES MURDER

KEY WEST, Fla.—(U.P.)—David Joseph Watson, 22, navy cook, last night confessed the bludgeon-strangle slaying of Seaman Leroy Jobbs of Nebo, N. C., aboard the U. S. Destroyer Stribling.

Scouts Ring 10,000 Doorbells In City In Drive for Worker Rooms

Seek Homes For New Employes In Mansfield.

Ten-thousand doorbells were to ring today in Mansfield and 10,000 letters, marked "Important Message" were scheduled to be handed out by more than 150 Boy Scouts who set off the civic campaign for sleeping rooms for 5,000 new employes, needed in industry and other businesses within the next six months.

Following up the Scouts part in the camapign, 40 Mansfield women will endeavor to cover the entire city Monday and Tuesday in the second phase of the "Rent That Spare Room" drive. The women were to receive final instructions today.

The campaign, which aims indirectly at a "Greater Mansfield—Population 60,000 by 1950"—is headed by Frank A. Berkey, personnel director of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company. Berkey said that the influx of additional employes was necessary in view of the large expansion expected in local business and industry.

WOMEN TAKE DATA ON ROOMS

Persons who have no rooms available now but who may have in the future, are asked to state the approximate time when the rooms will be ready. This information should be given to the women canvassers who will be supplied with questionnaire cards. Heading the canvassers will be Mrs. Clark Brook.

The civic committee, in charge of the drive, has pointed out that Mansfield's current labor supply can provide only 500 workers of the 5,000 needed. All workers

Eager to help in the civic movement to obtain sleeping rooms for 5,000 new workers needed in Mansfield industry and other establishments, Boy Scout Jud Hermes, 211 Marlow road, starts the day early on delivery of his share of the "Important Messages" going into 10,000 Mansfield homes today. Jud is handing a letter to Mrs. Eugene H. Almy, Marlow road. More than 150 scouts took part in the delivery. The messages appeal to householders to rent spare rooms and call attention to the fact that the recruiting of 5,000 new workers is the start of obtaining a "Greater Mansfield—Population 60,000 By 1950."

TB BOARD ASKS FOR ACTION ON HOSPITAL JOB

Raps 'Stalling Tactics,' Urges Commissioners to Call For Sanatorium Bids.

Declaring they can't understand why the county's proposed new $300,000 tuberculosis sanatorium has been delayed so long, Oliver R. Hartman and Mrs. Herbert L. Smith, members of the Richland county TB advisory board, today called upon the county commissioners to proceed with the project.

Their objections to what they termed "stalling and delaying tactics" came after Architect H. S. Jones submitted his plans for the hospital and warned commissioners that the $300,000 bond issue voted by taxpayers with an 86.8 per cent majority last fall will not adequately finance the project today.

"Why not advertise for contractors' bids and find out what it will cost? If it's definitely certain that $300,000 won't build it now, then put up another bond issue this fall for $100,000 to $200,000. The public certainly wants and needs a new sanatorium. The vote showed that," Hartman declared.

* * *

Terms It 'Mystery.'

Mrs. Smith said there is a "mystery" in the delays on the project.

"For some reason unknown to the public nothing has been done about building the sanatorium. There is construction work going on today—homes, industrial buildings and remodeling work. I understand that they've not even

Prices Up! (Gosh, We Know It!)

Food Costs Make Biggest One-Month Jump In U. S. History.

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The government reported today that retail food prices shot up a record-breaking 13.8 per cent between June 15 and July 15.

The bureau of labor statistics, which measures prices, said the rise was the greatest one-month jump in U. S. history. It's survey was made after food subsidies had ended and while price controls were suspended.

During the last week of July, food prices declined slightly, the bureau said.

* * *

FIND HIKE TOPS 13 PERCENT

A preliminary bureau report on Tuesday set the month's food cost increase at 13 per cent, but final, detailed figures showed an even greater jump.

The fastest rises occurred in Chicago, where prices went up 17.9 per cent; Boston, 17.3 and Minneapolis, 17. The slowest among 56 cities surveyed were Mobile, 9.3 per cent; Salt Lake City, 9.7 and Seattle 10.2.

In the first authoritative government survey of what happened to consumer food prices after the end of subsidies and OPA, the bureau gave this summary:

Meat—led the movement with a 30 per cent rise as prices of livestock in primary markets moved up 20 per cent. Supplies were large. Beef and veal rose 45 per cent, pork 32 per cent, lamb 24 per cent. Some of the greatest increases were 50 per cent for chuck roast, 47 per cent for round steak and rib roast, 30 per cent for pork chops and ham and 40 per cent for veal cutlets. Meat prices on July 15 were 32 per cent higher than a year earlier and 82 per cent above August, 1939.

Chickens—up 9 per cent.

Fresh and canned fish—up 7 per cent.

Dairy products—rose 21 per cent and were 34 per cent above a year earlier and 92 per cent above August, 1939. Butter rose to over 80 cents per pound, 32 per cent above June. It cost 50 cents a pound in July, 1945. Fluid milk prices were higher by 2½ cents per quart or 15 per cent above June.

Cereals and bakery products—increased 3 per cent primarily because of higher prices for flour, which went up 9.6 per cent. Corn flakes were up 12.8 per cent, corn meal, 14.8 per cent.

Eggs—advanced seasonally by 9 per cent.

Fresh and canned fruits and vegetables—up almost 3 per cent. Increases of 13 per cent for oranges—eight times the usual seasonal rise—and 24 per cent for spinach were reported. White potato prices edged upwards but cabbage and onion prices were down by 12 and 16 per cent with large crops.

TIDAL WAVES SWEEP TOWNS IN CARIBBEAN

Twice-Frightened Residents of Dominican Republic Flee From Homes.

BULLETIN

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republica —(AP)— Two earth tremors shook the Dominican Republic today in the wake of violent earthquakes and devastating tidal waves which have killed 52 persons and made 20,000 homeless since they began Sunday.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti —(AP)—Planes rushed help today to stricken areas of Haiti, the Dominican Republic and Puerto Rico, shaken anew yesterday by earth tremors described as worse in some regions than those which cost at least 30 lives last Sunday.

The fresh shocks—believed to come from a shift in the bed of the Atlantic ocean at its deepest point, 28,680 feet, about 50 miles northeast of the Dominican Republic—sent tidal waves smashing across leveled towns of the Dominican Republic and spread panic among residents of many sections. No casualty figures were available.

Towns along Mona Passage—the rough stretch of the sea separating the Dominican Republic and Puerto Rico—appeared to be hardest hit by the tidal wave. Matanzas, on the Dominican northeast coast, felt the full force of the wave. Earlier reports said 424 houses were destroyed in Matanzas Sunday.

Buildings Crumble.

Many buildings which withstood the previous shocks—the Guayando observatory in San Juan, Puerto Rico, said there had been 158 since Sunday—crumbled during a 40-second tremor yesterday morning and reports from the Dominican Republic said panic-stricken people jumped from balconies to the street. Frightened residents refused to spend the night in their homes.

In Haiti, which jointly occupies Hispaniola island with the Dominican Republic, the tremors knocked pedestrians off their feet.

In Ciudad Trujillo, capital of the Dominican Republic, the U. S. embassy sent a request to naval district headquarters at San Juan for doctors and nurses, while 15 doctors were reported to have arrived at Ciudad Trujillo from Curacao, Netherlands West Indies. Food was being dropped to refugees in the interior and the Red Cross was setting up emergency camps.

Observers returning from flights along the north coast—which a Pan-American Airways pilot said "took the heaviest beating"—reported cliffs breaking down and sliding into the sea. Another observer said the course of a river between Julia Molina and Cabrera in the Dominican Republic had been altered.

START REPAIRS

Damaged Ship Will Return to U. S. Within 2 Weeks.

FALMOUTH, Eng.— (AP) —Officials of the United States Lines announced today that repairs to the 8,000-ton American Farmer would be started immediately and that the ship probably would sail for Plymouth or Southampton within two weeks. There are facilities in those ports for unloading her cargo of food for Britain.

The American Farmer, which was severely damaged in a collision with another American merchant vessel several hundred miles off the British coast last week, arrived here yesterday under her own power.

STICK IN WHEEL INJURES CHILD

Girl Thrown Off Bicycle as Result of Boy's Prank; 5 Others Hurt in Area.

Six persons, including an 11-year-old girl, were injured in freak auto and bicycle accidents yesterday. Two others suffered minor bruises.

Catapulted to the pavement when a stick was tossed into the front wheel of her bicycle, Marlene J. Brauchler, 11, of 318 Second avenue, was treated by a physician for head injuries.

Her mother, Mrs. John Brauchler, told police that an 11-year-old Wayne street boy threw the stick into the front wheel. The girl suffered three bumps on the head and numerous bruises about the face.

The mother said that the girl was riding the bicycle with two other friends on Newman street yesterday about 4 p. m. when the accident occurred.

In a freak accident yesterday on State Route 39 two miles southeast of Mansfield, state highway patrolmen said five persons were injured, none seriously, when a truck and two cars piled up.

Officers said a truck driven by Dennis C. McGucken, 41, of Mans-

Getting Terminal Pay Takes Four Steps By Vets

Government Explanation Tells How to Go About It to Collect Share of $2,700,000,000 Fund.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman today signed into law a bill giving some 15,000,000 veterans the right to collect terminal leave pay. The measure authorizes the payment of an estimated $2,700,000,000 in cash and five-year bonds to non-commisioned members of the armed forces who did not receive all of the furlough time to which they were entitled. It was signed by Mr. Truman at a mid-day White House ceremony.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Four steps to be followed by discharged veterans in applying for terminal leave pay were outlined officially today as President Truman signed the legislation authorizing the $2,700,000,000 outlay.

The steps as listed by the treasury, war and navy departments:

1. Obtain from any postoffice a form entitled "Claim for Settlement, Unused Leave," and an accompanying instruction sheet.

2. Fill out this form. Help may be obtained at any of 3,000-odd veterans' community information or advisory centers, or at the office of any state or county veterans' service officer.

3. Swear to the statements made in the form before a notary public or other authorized civil officer. Most community information or advisory centers will provide the service free.

4. Mail the completed form, together with a discharge certificate

Revises Proposal On Lake Shipping

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Representatives of the CIO National Maritime union shaped revised proposals today for settlement of a wage-hour dispute which threatens a strike next Monday against dry cargo shipping on the Great Lakes.

At the request of government conciliators, the NMU agreed to present the proposals.

COMBINE PROBE CURTAIN FALLS

Rep. May's Debated Illness Gives Anti-Climactic End to Investigation.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The curtain fell today on the senate war investigating committee's weird wartime drama involving a "paper" empire, mysterious munitions makers, dancing generals and a lawmaker too ill to speak his piece.

It was an anti-climactic ending to a six weeks story of high profits and influence which piled sensation atop sensation as the committee pried into the wartime operations of the Garsson munitions combine and the help it received from Rep. May (D-Ky.).

For May, chairman of the house military committee, was under physicians' care in his Prestonsburg (Ky.) home—on this day when he was to have explained, under oath, why he helped the combine obtain big war contracts.

A formal report from Drs. John G. and George P. Archer, the Kentucky legislator's physicians, reported that May is suffering from heart trouble and general physical exhaustion and that he "must have an indefinite period of rest, quiet and careful attention."

Officials close to the committee expressed doubt that a new subpoena would be issued for May's appearance, or that his testimony would be taken unless he agrees to appear voluntarily.

May, 71, has said he did aid the combine but only to further the war effort. He denied profiting in any way himself.

One major off-shoot of the inquiry still gripped the attention of committee investigators—an attempt to track down the producers of defective 4.2 inch mortar shells which caused American casualties and delayed delivery of badly-needed ammunition to the front.

WARNS TRAINEES

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—Veterans in school or in on-the-job training programs should not take leaves of absence without prior notice to the veterans administration, VA officials said here today. Unauthorized leaves of absence may result in loss of subsistence pay for the period of the leaves, they warned.

Breaks Both Legs In Leap From Train

Chester E. Brubach, 282 Sheridan avenue, fractured both legs at 12:35 p. m. today when he leaped from a train which was just starting to pull out of the Pennsylvania station.

Brubach's wife, Ethel, who saw the accident, said her husband was saying goodbye to a family friend who had just boarded the coach when the train started to move.

Brubach leaped to the platform and fell. He was taken to General hospital in the Wappner ambulance.

The attending physician said Brubach sustained a fracture of the right leg below the knee. The left leg was broken at the ankle.

Wins Case Over Bump In Street

BELLAIRE— (INS) — The city of Bellaire held a favorable verdict today in a civil suit in which a St. Clairsville man sought $75,000 damages from the city.

A jury brought the decision against the plaintiff, Ralph E. Scott, after hearing evidence for four days. Scott charged he was injured in an accident in Bellaire in 1943. He said he was changing a tire on his automobile when another car struck a hole in the street and skidded into him.

DIES OF INJURIES

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Injuries received when he was dragged by a runaway horse proved fatal today to Frank Spangler, 65, of Columbus. Spangler, a truck farmer, died in a Columbus hospital.

Jury Can Wait, But Cows Can't

MCONNELSVILLE — (U.P.) — Milking time waits for nothing. . . . Not even the Morgan county grand jury. Jury members examined all cases brought before them and were about to inspect the county jail when it was learned that one of the group had gone home to milk his cows.

The sheriff tried to call the farmer back but the telephone operator refused to place the call because the farmer had not paid his bill. As a result, the entire grand jury had to be recalled the next day to finish its business and sign official court records.

YMCA Board to Seek New Secretary, Keeping Chapman As An Associate

Action Linked With Development Program Due to Be Carried Out In Next Five Years.

The YMCA board of directors announced today that they had accepted a recommendation to secure a new executive secretary on condition that Ralph B. Chapman, general secretary of the Y since 1931, continue with the association in an associate capacity.

Charles S. Lake, YMCA president, said that the recommendation was presented through the recently appointed Future Planning committee in its recent report to the directors.

Lake added that a few weeks ago the Y announced the decision to establish a five to seven year program of development and advancement as requested by Chapman. He said that this program would carry through the period in which Chapman would reach retirement age and would mean the heaviest load of his career at a time when Chapman felt he should be conserving his health. Chapman said that his retirement would be due in seven and one-half years.

Lake said that as yet no person had been named to fill Chapman's position, but that the future planning committee is now working in conjunction with the Ohio Area Council and the National Council of the YMCA in an attempt to find such a man as Chapman recommends to fill the job.

LAUSCHE MAKES INSPECTION OF CAMP PERRY

CAMP PERRY—(AP)—Preparations for the arrival tomorrow of the second section of the Ohio State Guard and militia for its annual summer training at Camp Perry here were interrupted temporarily today by Gov. Frank J. Lausche and a group of state, university and army officials.

The officials inspected the 700-acre flat property near Lake Erie for possible use as the site of a temporary state university for war veterans. The camp, used during the war as a selective service induction center and subsequently as a prisoner of war location, will be restored by the war department when the state makes a decision on the disposition of the training grounds.

The governor flew to the Port Clinton airport this morning and returned to Columbus after an inspection tour this afternoon.

Other members of the group were Brig. Gen. Donald F. Pancoast, Col. B. C. Dunn of the army engineers corps, Ohio State university Vice President Bland L. Stradley, Bowling Green State university President F. J. Prout, Ohio university President John C. Baker and Kent State university President George Bowman.

The heads of Ohio's six state-supported universities this week re-proposed that Camp Perry in Ottawa county be used temporarily as a school because housing was inadequate to accommodate the flood of applications for fall enrollment. The proposal was rejected earlier this year.

The officials carefully inspected barracks and buildings at Camp Perry for ideas on how it could be converted into dormitories and classrooms.

Meanwhile preparations were continued by camp officials and cooks for the arrival tomorrow of the second half of the state home guard forces. However, the Sandusky unit, Company E of the Fifth Infantry which was to have been in the training camp tomorrow, will not be with the others because it was mustered out of service Thursday by General Pancoast.

The first contingent of 1,826 officers and men opened their annual summer training camp July 27 and left for home last Monday after nine days of basic drills.

Tomorrow approximately 2,100 men will be delivered in trucks to the camp for the beginning of training and they will return home Monday, Aug. 18.

The arriving outfits will include the Second Infantry from southeastern Ohio, the Fourth Infantry from the Toledo area, the Fifth Infantry from the Cleveland region and the Company "A" truck unit from Lima.

Pancoast said that the first unit "did very well" at the camp and "in fact some officers thought it was the best ever."

DEPUTY TREASURER DIES

CINCINNATI—(AP)—Edmund A. Wachendorf, chief deputy treasurer from Hamilton county since 1935, died yesterday after a year's illness. He was 54.

Dog Knows How to Beat Heat

"Queen" has the right idea for maintaining that cool composure through the summer months. The 13-year-old bull dog, pet of Mrs. Jessie Shambaugh, 71 North Foster street, jumps in her tub of water every time the mercury climbs a little above normal, turns around and around until she cools off and jumps out. "She's had her tub of water ever since she was a pup," Mrs. Shambaugh said. "When she was younger she used to go fishing with us and jump in after the fish when we'd get a bite." Queen, however, was never known to catch any fish.

SLICKERS STOPPED

ELDON, Mo.—(INS)—An Eldon merchant, plagued by Eastern visitors to this Ozarks community who ask him to show them a hillbilly, directs them to the back of the store with the advice to "look out the window." There is no window at the rear of the store, but the merchant has hung a large mirror with a simulated window frame.

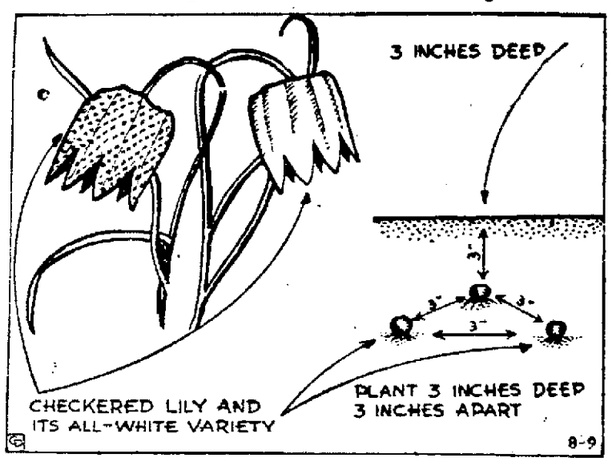
Today's Garden-Graph



Checkered Lily Adds Color to Garden

The quaint checkered lily has many names and many unusual color combinations which make it a most interesting bulb bloom for the mixed border or rock garden.

It is also known as the Guinea Hen Flower but its proper name is Fritillaria meleagris. When planted in the fall it will produce blooms the following spring.

The blooms are bell-shaped flowers with rather square shoulders, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. The colorings are bronze purple, with white checks, reddish brown with pale green checks, violet with yellow checks. There is also a pure white variety, illustrated. Two or three blooms grow on a slender, single stem which reaches some 12 inches in height.

To grow happily and increase, the bulbs require a somewhat damp location (but not one where water is apt to stand) in rich, sandy soil. These lilies also prefer shade part of the day. Plant the bulbs three inches deep and three inches apart in groups of three or more, as illustrated. Protect the bulbs with a light mulch of stray or leaves over winter.

There are several American varieties of this lily which grow two or more feet in height, with mottled green and brown flowers. Another variety has orange-colored flowers, and closely resembles a miniature lily. These varieties prefer a rather heavy soil.

As the Fritillarias may remain undisturbed for years, it is an easy matter to accumulate gradually several varieties.

SPRING BLACK MARKET TRAP

Agents Expect to Crack Open One of Biggest Cases in Germany.

BERLIN — (AP) — U. S. army agents said yesterday they expected to announce soon the cracking of "one of the biggest cases of black marketing and illicit trading with the enemy."

Lt. Col. A. E. Link of Philadelphia, a military government officer, committed suicide Wednesday after being questioned by the army criminal investigation division in the case, the agents said.

Army investigators said two other Americans, civilians in the military government, were being detained. They and Col. Link, the army investigation agents said, were suspected of having bought surreptitious interests in German businesses and properties with proceeds of black market operations and in violation of the trading with the enemy act.

PLAN EROSION STUDY

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Persons interested in erosion control along Lake Erie's south shores are invited to a meeting at Cedar Point next Wednesday. The Ohio postwar program commission, headed by Sen. Roscoe R. Walcutt of Columbus, urged Lakeshore property owners and vacationers to attend the sessions which are a part of the American Shore and Beach Preservation association's convention.

Team No. 1 Wins O-B Title

Team No. 1 won the Ohio Brass golf league title last night in the loop's final night of play with a 3 to 2 win over No. 2.

Out in front most of the season, the champs were challenged only by the No. 5 quartet which was down, 3 to 2, by No. 3 last night.

Low medalist for the league were Gene Yarman and Gene Shoemaker with 39's. Steve Yirga fired a 40 and Don Ogden a 41.

VINES STILL LEADS CANADIAN TOURNEY

WINNIPEG — (AP) — Only two strokes off the 136-stroke pace set by Ellsworth Vines of Chicago at the halfway mark in the $10,000 Canadian Professional Golfers' Association Open tournament, Vancouver's Stan Leonard looked today as the possible winner.

Leonard fired a four-under-par 67 in the second round yesterday to close in on the former tennis player and Vines who slipped to 71.

Barnes Edge G-R In District Tourney

Winebrenner Hurls 4-3 Win; Humphryes Also Dropped From Play In Close Game

MARION—Two Mansfield softball teams who have been trying to play each other all season in the Industrial league, only to have the contests rained out, finally met last night.

Turning into what was the best game of the district tournament, Barnes Manufacturing came from behind to edge Gorman-Rupp, 4-3.

In one of the tournament's other top games, Humphryes of Mansfield was edged out of the tourney by the Upper Sandusky Elks, 2-1 in eight innings.

Third game saw the Phalanx Fraternity of Marion gain a 4-3 win over the Marion Moose.

Stub Winebrenner went the distance for the Barnes nine and allowed but five hits.

Jim Fullager started for the G-R club but was replaced in the fifth by Ad Geiger.

Gorman-Rupp started fast, shoving all their runs in the first innings on an error, Tom Moxley's single and a case on balls.

* * *

Barnes picked up two runs in the second inning on one hit, and then tallied two more in the fifth on singles by Turner and Hough and a double by Bush.

* * *

Bill Friend scored Humphryes' lone run in the first inning as the Mansfield club was set down on three hits. But that tally looked mighty big as the game progressed.

It stood up until the first of the seventh when Lenhardt homered to left field. It was one of the four hits that Dale McKinley allowed. The Mansfield chucker worked a great ball game and was tough in the pinches.

Shell Oil of Mansfield and Smith and Wilson of Upper Sandusky clash in the 7 o'clock game tonight while Safety Cabs and Ashland Independents meet in the last game at 9 o'clock. Carey Merchants and Lauble's of Shelby meet in the middle contest.

Olympic Finals Tonight

Around 35 of Mansfield's young track stars will be gunning tonight for a berth on one of the three teams that will compete in the national junior olympics at Cleveland on Aug. 24.

First events get underway at 6 o'clock.

Out at the Senior high cinder oval the city meet to determine the local representatives in the big colorful meet in Cleveland's municipal stadium will be held.

For several weeks now Harry Mehock, high school track tutor, has been staging workout sessions for the junior, intermediate and senior divisions.

Tonight these boys will seek an opportunity to compete in one of the greatest sports events in the country for athletes from 12 to 17 years old.

Such events in which the two younger classes will compete are the 60-yard dash, 60-yard low hurdles, shuttle relays, high jump, half-mile relay, shot put.

Senior division athletes will go in the 100-yard dash, 440 and 880-yard runs, hurdles, shot put, running broad jump and the high jump and a couple others.

In the Cleveland meet only one boy can compete in any one event. This gives more boys a chance to seek national honors.

Mickey Owen Hopes To Talk With Commissioner Today

Here's Mickey Owen, the Mexican jumping bean, as he and his wife head for Cincinnati where the former Dodger catcher has an appointment with Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

By DON STILL

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Mickey Owen had an apointment today in the office of baseball's high Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler which he hoped would pave the way for his return to America's national pastime.

Owen, the former Brooklyn Dodger catcher who deserted the National league for the golden lure of Mexican baseball but then left the south-of-the-border ranks, was slated to appear in Chandler's office at 11 a. m. (EST).

But there was doubt that Chandler would be on hand to hear the 30-year-old former major league backstopper's plea.

* * *

Owen, who said he quit Mexico because of "an accumulation of disgust," was granted an audience by Herold (Muddy) Ruel, a former catching great himself now serving as Chandler's special assistant.

* * *

But Owen said Ruel told him he "couldn't guarantee that Chandler would be there."

Owen said he couldn't say exactly why he decided to leave Mexico but "guessed it was just an accumulation of disgust." He said he was sorry he had heeded the call when Jorge Pasquel, Mexican loop leader and financier, offered him "a lot of cash and an attractive setup" shortly after Owen was discharged from the navy last April 1.

And he described all the other former major league players now playing in Mexico as "an unhappy bunch of guys."

Owen disclosed that Pasquel paid him $12,500 for signing a five-year contract for $15,000 a year, with the final year also paid in advance.

He said the pact also provided for room and board, but that he and his wife, Gloria, who accompanied him here, finally ended up purchasing their own food and renting their own apartment.

ROSS TO REFEREE

Pirates Sold; Crosby Joins Hope As Owner

By BILL CORUM

NEW YORK—(NS)—Faith, Hope and Crosby now rule the baseball world and when the blue of the night meets the gold of the dawn, or something, the Pittsburgh Pirates will, no doubt, be champions of the world.

There is something peculiarly fitting about "The Groaner" becoming part owner of the Pirates. Poor Bill Benswanger and Frank Frisch have been groaning over 'em for years.

Crosby joined Frank E. McKinney, Tom Johnston and John W. Galbreath in buying the majority interests in the Buccaneers from the Dreyfuss family yesterday. This gives the National league a hooper rating equal to the American, which already boasted Bob Hope as part owner of the Cleveland Indians.

For the first time in baseball history the autograph seekers are going to be chasing after the club owners instead of the players. Some of us have complained for years that baseball lacked showmanship. Well, they fixed us. Like the little boy who cried for the bumblebee, we have it now.

What with Hope, Crosby, MacPhail, Veeck and that sterling thespian of Flatbush, Leo Durocher, we may not have much else to write about in baseball, but we'll have showmanship. One feels sort of sorry for Jack Benny and Fred Allen. When the big radio shows get under way again this fall, they're fellows who are going to need a Feller.

Indians Split Pair With White Sox

Pete Reiser Returns to Dodger Lineup; Drives In All Runs In 3-1 Triumph.

By JOE REICHLER, AP Sports Writer.

It is still too early to compare Bob Feller, Cleveland's great righthander, with such pitching immortals as Walter Johnson, Christy Mathewson, Cy Young and Grover Cleveland Alexander, but at the rate he is moving along, the former boy wonder appears a cinch to be voted a place in baseball's Hall of Fame just as soon as his pitching days are over.

The Indians' mound caster shattered a 36-year-old standard yesterday when he racked up his eighth one-hitter as he blanked the Chicago White Sox 5-0 in the first game of a doubleheader.

With just eight big league years behind him—only five of them complete—Rapid Robert has two no-hit masterpieces to his credit, in addition to his eight one-hitters and has allowed fewer than five safeties in 20 other games. He holds two strikeout marks—most in one game, 18; and in two consecutive games, 28, and is one of five American leaguers to fan six men in succession.

Although never on a pennant winner, Feller has won 24 or more games three times and appears a cinch to make it four this season with 21 victories already under his belt.

Were it not for a three and a half year hitch in the navy, Feller, barring injury, would have an outside chance of bettering Johnson's American league record of 414 triumphs. Bob owns 133 victories against only 63 defeats and has struck out 1,543 batsmen in 1,769 innings, including 251 whiffs this season.

* * *

What made Feller's latest achievement more remarkable was that only four days ago, he had been forced to leave the field at Cleveland, grimacing with pain after he had pulled a back muscle in the seventh inning against the New York Yankees. Feller asked permission to pitch yesterday despite only three days' recuperation.

* * *

Despite Feller's masterpiece, the Indians could do no better than gain an even split when the Pale Hose nine fought back to nip the Tribe 7-6 in the 10-inning nightcap.

The Boston Red Sox turned in another double win, defeating the Philadelphia Athletics 4-3 in the opener and 10-6 in the nightcap. Homers by Johnny Pesky, Rip Russell and Dom DiMaggio helped sew up both games.

After sitting out two games because of an upset stomach, Ted Williams resumed his left fielding in the first game for the Sox, but after going hitless, was rested in the second contest.

The Yankees remained 13 games behind the Red Sox by sweeping a twin bill from the Washington Senators 9-3 and 13-1.

Pete Reiser celebrated his return to the Brooklyn Dodgers' lineup by bashing out a home run and triple to drive in all the Brooks' runs in their 3-1 10-inning victory over the New York Giants. The triumph increased the National league leaders' margin over the idle St. Louis Cardinals to two full games.

Five Cincinnati errors, two in the tenth inning, enabled the Chicago Cubs to eke out a 2-1 win over the Reds.

The Philadelphia Phillies and the Boston Braves divided a free-hitting twin bill with the Phils winning the opener, 9-8 and the Braves the nightcap, 7-6.

The Detroit Tigers and the St. Louis Browns in the American league and the Pittsburgh Pirates in the National joined the Cards in an off day.

Play to Start In Six Divisions of City Tennis Tourney

Men's Singles Draws Largest Number

Committee Announces That First Round Matches Must Be Played by Monday

Pairings for the city's tennis tournament were announced this morning.

Championships in six events—men's and women's singles, men's and women's doubles, mixed doubles and junior boys' singles—will be decided on the local courts within the next two weeks.

A tennis committee of W. E. "Wattie" Slabaugh, Ruhland Isaly and Hollis Quinlan drew up the tournament pairings.

First round matches must be played by Monday night and the results must be called in to the News-Journal sports department by Tuesday morning.

Largest number of entries came in the men's singles where 21 players will seek the title won last year by Slabaugh.

* * *

Matches may be played on any of the city courts or any private court with the opponents to make the decision. All players should provide three good balls and then flip to see which player's will be used.

* * *

Barring unforeseen weather conditions, finals in the women's doubles, women's singles and the boys' singles will be played a week from Saturday afternoon at Woodlawn.

The committee announced that all championship matches will be played at Woodlawn since its surface is the best in town.

Pairings for the opening rounds are as follows:

AA Leaders In Deadlock; Birds Win Two

(By Associated Press)

The defending champion Milwaukee Brewers, although beaten 12 to 8 by Louisville in 11 innings last night, were back in fourth place in the American association, replacing Minneapolis. The Millers dropped two games to Columbus, 9 to 6 and 3 to 2.

Louisville and Indianapolis remained tied for the league-leadership, as the Indians made it two in a row over Kansas City, 6 to 5. Third-place St Paul lost ground to last-place Toledo Mudhens.

At Kansas City Shortstop Sebastian Sisti's single in the ninth inning scored Third Baseman Frank Drews with the winning run to give Indianapolis a 6 to 5 victory after the Blues had come from behind to tie the score at 5-all in the sixth.

* * *

Louisville outslugged Milwaukee, 18 hits to 13. The Colonels used two pitchers, against three for the Brewers. The teams were tied 8 to 8, but the Colonels came up with a four-run splurge in the top half of the 11th to clinch the contest.

* * *

At St. Paul, Toledo's Fred Sanford won his 14th game of the season in defeating the Saints. Walter Nothe held the Hens hitless in a four-inning relief chore and struck out seven

By winning a doubleheader, Columbus made it three in a row in the series with the Millers In the opener the Birds collected three home runs to come from behind and win. In the nightcap, they scored the winning run in the ninth when Jack Natisin doubled and Don Lang singled him home.

Three Places Open In OSL

(By Associated Press)

First, third and fifth places in the Ohio State league are held by such slim margins that occupants could be ousted in the two-game series starting Friday night in eastern members' parks.

Springfield, the league leader, made seven errors at Lima Thursday night and lost 11-5 but maintained its two-game edge on Zanesville which went down 8-2 at Richmond where three Dodger hurlers issued 10 walks to the home team.

By winning, Richmond went into third place— 002 per cent ahead of Newark Moundsmen Newark lost at Middletown 5-4 in 13 innings when Outfielder Pete Shurman doubled home with the winning run a man who made first on a Newark error.

Lima's triumph put the Terriers a half game ahead of Marion for the top spot in the second division for Marion was pummeled 12-6 at Dayton.

TRAIN IN FLORIDA

TOLEDO—(AP)—The Toledo Mud Hens will train in a Florida city yet to be selected next spring President G. E. Gilliland announced today. The St. Louis Browns, Mud Hens' parent club, expects to train in Miami, and the American association farm club wants to be near the Browns, he said. Last spring the Toledo team trained at San Antonio, Tex.

The American Indian used crude oil as a medicine.

Slapnicka Will Direct Team For Bob Feller

ST. LOUIS —(AP)— Bob Feller has entrusted his initial investment in baseball to the man who first discovered him in the cornfields of Iowa.

The Cleveland Indians' pitching star announced last night in Chicago that C. C Slapnicka, former vice president and general manager of the Indians, would direct the Denver baseball club when Feller begins operating it in 1948.

Feller and western associates purchased the Denver franchise last winter. The former Indian executive, now a scout for the Chicago Cubs, saw Feller hurl his one-hitter at Chicago yesterday.

Leesville Host To Sohio Nine

LEESVILLE — The Leesville Reds will play host to the Skeeter's Sohio station of Mansfield here Sunday afternoon starting at 2:30.

Wayne Eckert will hurl for the Reds with Ike Eckert behind the plate.

Earlier in the season the local team gained an easy win over the Mansfield club but a tougher game is expected Sunday.

Chestertown Wins Harness Classic As Records Fall

By SID FEDER

GOSHEN, N. Y. — (AP) — A "no account" colt and a hospital-case driver hold the American trotting championship between them today, after a Hambletonian that saw so much money tossed around it was definite evidence the trotting horse is here to stay.

Chesty Chestertown and the veteran Tom Berry got together to take two out of three heats yesterday and pick up the $28,047 winner's pot in the 21st running of the corn tassel classic.

But of almost as much interest as the victory of the first California-owned horse ever to zip home in the buggy whip world series was the way the Hambletonian records for crowd and betting were smashing all over the place. At the finish, the 16,015 customers, had shoveled over $300,000 into the mutuel machines. Of this, $159,824 was fed to the iron men on the big race alone—three heats and the pre-race result pool—for an all-time Hambletonian high.

* * *

The Hambletonian had been regarded as a wide open affair, with Chesty a slight favorite, but when the son of Volomite settled down to business, it was a breeze. Berry and his colt were caught off guard in the first heat and Victory Song got off winning and came home in 2:03.

* * *

Victory Song broke in the second heat, but it probably wouldn't have made much difference anyway, because Chesty came clicking home in 2:02½, a 1946 record mile for a three-year-old.

And in the third mile, he showed definitely he was head man when he kept right on coming as Victory Song and Deanna ran at him, and he hit the wire in 2:03¼.

Deanna, last year's two-year-old champion wound up third in both the first and third heats and second in the second dash to take down third money with Don Scott, from the barn of tobacco man Will Reynolds of Winston-Salem, N. C., fourth in the final standings; Westfield Girl, recent $25,000 buy of E J. Baker of St. Charles, Ill., fifth, and Walter Spencer, from the local Arden Homestead stable of E. Roland Harriman, last year's winning owner, sixth in the field of 11.

Ruled Off Turf

JOCKEY R. L. VEDDER, above, of Cimarron, Kan., has been ruled off the Illinois tracks for life and faces the prospect of never being able to ride again on tracks affiliated with the thoroughbred racing association. Vedder was charged with attempted bribery following an investigation of the eighth race at Arlington Park July 13. (International)

Nice Going

Pitcher Tom Ferrick of the St. Louis Browns won two ball games the other day by hurling only four innings. Ferrick, who hadn't won a game this year, pitched relief twice for the Browns in a double bill with the A's and he was given credit for both wins.

Favorites Meet In Amateur Play

DULUTH, Minn.—(AP)—Favorite started battling favorite for survival in the quarter-finals matches of the Western Amateur golf tournament today as the affair ran its "easiest" day — only four matches of 18 holes each were carded.

Of the eight survivors left after yesterday's 36 holes—the second and third rounds—there was but one contestant who could qualify as a "dark horse."

Keith Bridston of Grand Forks, N. D., was the only player labelled "dark horse" as he took on Frank Stranahan of Toledo, the top favorite to win the title, in the upper bracket.

GETS VIEW

Aerial Photographer Advises Soil Study From Air.

CADIZ—(INS)—Soil conservation experts will do well to take to the air and get a birdman's view of the problems they face.

That is the advice of Don Hover of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, who spent three years in military service as an aerial photographer.

"Not only gullies on badly eroded land, but also large gray areas where top soil has been lost may be seen from the air," Hover explained.

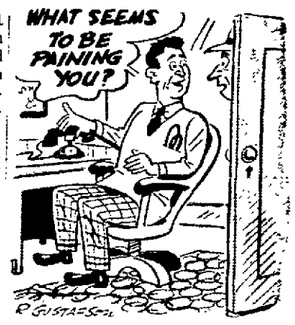
Try and Stop Me

—By Bennet Cerf



Young Dr. Anderson hung out his shingle for the first time on a Tuesday, but no patient showed up until Friday morning. When he came into the room, Dr. Anderson thought it advisable to impress him.

He picked up the telephone and barked into it, "I have so many patients scheduled to visit me today that I am afraid I won't be able to get over to the hospital to perform that brain operation until six this evening."

He banged up the receiver and turned to his visitor with a disarming smile. "What seems to be paining you, my good man?" he said.

"Nothing is paining me," said the bewildered visitor. "I have just come to hook up your phone, sir."

A vacationist from the city went fishing in a costume straight out of the fashion pages. A barefooted kid watched his ludicrous antics for some time and finally hazarded a "How many fish you caught, Mister?" "None yet," said the mail-order Izaak Walton. "That ain't bad," said the kid. "Feller dressed even funnier'n you fished here for two weeks and didn't get any more than you got in half an hour!"

Decide Monday On Liquor Ban Law

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The state liquor department expects to announce Monday its decision on a request for the Women's Christian Temperance union for enforcement of a 58-year-old statute banning liquor sales within two miles of state and county fairs.

No action before then is planned by the department, Department Director Robert M. Solmgen said, denying the W.C.T.U.'s demand for immediate enforcement at six local fairs now in progress.

DEVELOPS SAFETY DEVICE

AKRON — (AP) — The Summit Manufacturing company has developed a device designed to reduce death hazards in building fires. Company Vice President Peter Schneider said the mechanism is to be attached to window sills, particularly of hotels. When an alarm is sounded, building occupants can put on harnesses similar to those in parachutes and be lowered to the ground on a strong rope, which is regulated by a delaying device.

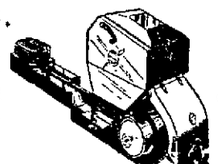
The Winkler self-feed home model feeds coal direct from the bin to the fire

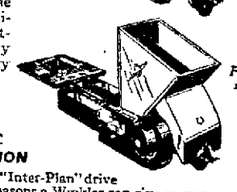
FOR CAREFREE WINTER COMFORT

Take life easy with a Winkler! So automatically does this stoker operate that you are hardly conscious of its existence.

More comfort and convenience for less money—that's the Winkler story. More comfort because the Winkler delivers a smooth flow of uniform heat. Automatically it builds up or decreases the fire to meet changes in the need for heat. Automatically it feeds fuel to the fire from a capacious hopper or direct from the coal bin, saving countless basement trips. That's why thousands are saying, "We're lucky we have a Winkler."



Winkler Commercial model
For apartments, stores, large residences



Winkler Industrial model
For factories, institutions, office buildings

FULLY AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION
This exclusive "Inter-Plan" drive is one of the reasons a Winkler can give so many years of trouble-free service. Come in for a demonstration—see why obstructions in the coal can't stop the extra-power Winkler.

PRICES UP, BUT STOCKS LACK VIGOR

Market Dealings Slow Down After Making Moderately Active Opening.

Dealings slowed after a moderately active opening.

Another batch of increased dividends served to bolster bullish sentiment although failing to spur stocks concerned.

Modest improvement was registered for Woolworth, Sears Roebuck, American Telephone, Anaconda, International Nickel, R-K-O, Westinghouse, General Electric, Southern Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio and Texas Co. Backward were U. S. Steel, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Consolidated Edison, Columbia Gas, American Water Works, American Smelting, Public Service of N. J. and Great Northern Railway.

Six Ways to Fight Polio

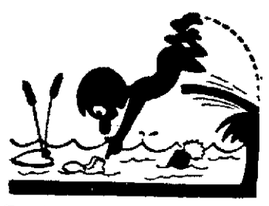
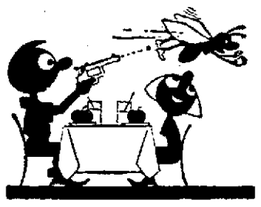
Avoid chills. Don't stay too long in cold water.



Don't swim in polluted waters.

Help keep your community clean. Waste and exposed garbage may be sources of infection.



Keep clean. Wash hands before eating. Keep flies and other insects away from food.

Avoid removal of tonsils or adenoids prior to and during polio epidemic season.

U. S. Polio Cases Mounting Far Above Number Last Year

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The U. S. public health service revealed today that there are almost twice as many polio victims throughout the nation this year than during the same period in 1945 when nearly 3,000 cases of the crippling disease were reported.

A spokesman said that according to reports from state health offices 5,459 cases existed in the entire United States as of this month. Last year the number stood at 2,903. A warning was issued that polio appears to be spreading rapidly north from the south and midwest.

The health service official based this statement on the increasing occurrence of polio in Minnesota, pointing out that the mysterious disease always has struck first in the south where warm weather comes early.

With little children mainly its victims, polio attacks the year round, but the rate begins to climb in April or May. In warning that the peak is reached in September, the official urged that these precautions be taken:

Keep out of crowds. It has not been determined how polio is transmitted.

Children must get plenty of rest. They must not over-exercise or become chilled.

It is advisable to postpone any tonsil or adenoid operations past summer and early fall.

The Minnesota health department reported a statewide total of more than 800 cases of polio for the year.

Latest U. S. public health service figures listed 504 cases for Texas; 382 in Florida; 351, California; 226, Colorado and 210, Illinois.

The health service spokesman said that despite the fact that most people think of polio as being a very dangerous disease, it is not often fatal."

Scientists have been able to isolate the virus causing the polio infection and they know many of its habits. Efforts to devise a satisfactory vaccine to combat the virus, which has been found in the nose, throat and intestines, have been unsuccessful, however.

An infantile paralysis infection of the central nervous system, polio attacks nerve cells that control the muscles, mostly commonly those of the arms and legs.

The majority of polio victims never suffer from weakened muscles or paralysis. Half of the number paralyzed recover.

The polio virus has been found in persons without the disease. The spokesman said that they were "just lucky" to have built up an immunity to the malady. It is possible that these "healthy" persons give the battling ailment to the less resistent.

Turn Tables, Honor Their Boss

Veteran Tire Employes Stage Party For Stephens, Firm Head

G. W. Stephens, president and general manager of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company, who has handed out gold watches to 83 employes in recognition of 25 years of service with the company, received a surprise gift last night as a token of esteem from the employes he has honored.

Soon after Stephens presented 13 more veteran employes with gold watches at a dinner attended by more than 100 employes and plant officials at the Mansfield-Leland hotel, he was handed a tissue-wrapped package and was told it was "from the fellows assembled out here in front of you."

Inside the package was a cigar humidor of highly polished black mahogany. On the lid was a silver plate on which the names of all 83 veterans had been engraved in their own handwriting. Also engraved on it was "To G. W. Stephens, president and general manager of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company, as a token of esteem and appreciation from members of the 25-Year club of 1946."

Visibly moved and at a loss for words for a moment, the man who has been the guiding influence in the company for 33 years and who is now serving his 24th year as president, told the group that the gift will become one of his most cherished possessions.

Carl W. Schafer, president of the 25-Year club, presented the gift to Stephens at the close of the dinner which was given by the company to honor the new group of 13 employes eligible to join the ranks of 25-year veterans.

Stephens topped off the air of informality at the party by staging a one-man skit by manipulating the "bones," the kind that minstrel men used in the days when minstrel shows were popular. He "brought down the house" with "Turkey in the Straw."

TB BOARD ASKS FOR ACTION ON HOSPITAL JOB

Raps 'Stalling Tactics,' Urges Commissioners to Call For Sanatorium Bids.

applied to the CPA for a building permit," Mrs. Smith said.

Jones had told the county commissioners that the CPA refused to grant a permit unless the county could pledge that actual construction work would begin within 30 days after the permit was granted.

However, Jones' contention was flatly denied today by G. W. Thompson, district manager of CPA at Cleveland.

"There is no CPA regulation requiring a builder to begin construction within 30 days after the permit is granted. However, we did tell a county representative that we would prefer that this application be deferred until next year if they did not intend to build this year," Thompson told the News-Journal.

* * *

No Permit Requested.

Thompson said that no application for a CPA permit had been made although the "county representative," whose name he said he didn't know, had "talked about the project" with CPA officials.

"He was told that the CPA cannot rule either for or against the project until an application with all the necessary information has been filed. We can't do anything about it until we know what the project is going to involve in the way of building materials," Thompson said.

Both Hartman and Mrs. Smith said today they had tried to convince the commissioners that the bond issue last fall should have been set at $400,000, instead of $300,000.

Asto whether contractors will bid on the project now, Hartman and Mrs. Smith both agreed that Jones had told the advisory board "about a month ago" that three contractors had indicated a willingness to bid on the job.

"What become of those contractors? Maybe they've changed their minds by now, but it still remains a fact that other construction work is going on. And the need for this hospital is very great," Mrs. Smith declared.

Lease Expires.

"Why, as a matter of fact, the county doesn't even have a sanatorium right now. The county's lease on the old building expired last month and the owner has informed us she intends to sell and will not renew the lease. She promised that the patients can remain in the building as long as she owns it, but what will happen when the building is sold?" Mrs. Smith asked.

Hartman agreed that the county has no legal title to the building now and said he didn't know what developments will bring.

Jones had urged the commissioners to try for federal funds under a recently-passed congressional measure granting money to political subdivisions proposing to build hospitals.

Commissioner Chairman C. L. Shoup reported that he would make immediate investigation into the chances for federal money. He said he would ask Congressman J. Harry McGregor to look into the problem.

While Hartman said he would favor another bond issue to supplement the one passed last fall, Mrs. Smith said she didn't know if a bond issue was the answer but that more money should be "obtained by some means" if the $300,000 is not enough.

"Those bonds should be sold now. We'll never see again as low an interest rate as we have now," she said.

The new sanatorium will be a modern 49-bed building which capacity of which can be expanded to 72 beds in emergencies. It will be built on a 13-acre gift site on State Route 39 south of Mansfield which Hartman valued at a minimum of $25,000.

field, R. D. 4, had stopped at the side of the highway when it was struck from behind by a car driven by Jacob W. Hager, 22 of 300 Auburn street, and Hager's car was rammed by another car operated by Edwain H. Lockwood, 41, of Mansfield.

Admitted to the hospital for treatment and released were Betty Satton, 17, of 272 Harker street, and Paul Shamhart, 15, Mansfield, R. D. 4, both passengers in the Hager car. Hager was reported to have received a slight laceration of the right hand and a bruised knee, and Mrs. Margaret C. Hager, 41, was reported to have received minor bruises. The latter two were not treated.

TERMINAL PAY MOVES LISTED

or certificate of service, to the appropriate army, navy, marine corps or coast guard paying officer listed on the reverse side of the claim form.

Payment will be made by mail "as soon as possible" and the supporting documents returned.

Equalizes Benefits.

The legislation, which also will equalize leave benefits of officers and enlisted men still on active duty, calls for payment of an estimated $2,700,000,000 in cash and interest-bearing five year bonds to about 15,000,000 former members of the army, navy, marines and coast guard. It is the first major revision of leave policies in the armed forces in 70 years.

For those now in service, the act limits the amount of leave any individual may accumulate to 60 days, instead of the 120 days officers hitherto could accumulate. Those still on active duty who have piled up 61 to 120 days credit as of Sept. 1 will be reimbursed in cash or bonds all days over 60. As more leave time accrues at the rate of 30 days a year, they must use it or lose it.

Those who have been discharged will be paid in cash or bonds for accumulated leave up to 120 days between Sept. 18, 1939, and Sept. 1, 1946.

The official statement said the discharge certificate which must be forwarded may be the original, a photostatic copy, or a true copy certified by an authorized state or local official.

If the original has been lost or destroyed, a certificate in lieu of discharge will be issued upon application to the Adjutant General of the Army, 4300 Goodfellow Boulevard, St. Louis, 20, Missouri; Chief of Naval Personnel, Navy Department, Washington, 25, D.C.; Director of Personnel, Headquarters, U. S. Marine Corps, Washington, 25, D. C.; Commandant of the Coast Guard, Washington, 25, D. C. Army personnel may obtain the proper application form at any recruiting office.

If the amount due a veteran is less than $50 or if he was discharged before Jan. 1, 1943, payment in full will be made by treasury check.

For amounts of $50 and above, payment will be in bonds in multiples of $25, with a check for the balance. However, payment in full will be made by check to survivors or guardians of discharged veterans who have died, become insane or been adjudged incompetent.

All payments to veterans will be at the pay rate for the enlisted grade held when discharged. Those still on active duty also will be compensated at the rate for the last enlisted grade or rating held. Payments will include an additional 70 cents a day for subsistence and, for master, technical and staff sergeants with dependents, $1.25 a day for quarters.

The act put a one-year limit on the time for applying for payments.

Maturity date of the bonds is five years from the date of the last separation from service. They may not be pledged as collateral or otherwise used in financial operations except for payment of premiums, loans or conversion on government or national service life insurance.

Y Board Seeks New Secretary

Chapman began Y work in 1914 at Oskaloosa, Iowa, under the direction of Harry Henness, now associated with Lumbermens Mutual Insurance company here. Through recommendations from Henness, Chapman followed him to Mansfield to accept his first position with the local YMCA in 1915 as boys' secretary.

In 1930, when the YMCA closed, Chapman maintained Y work through the city from an office in the Bird building, under the sponsorship of the "Y's Men's Club," which later developed into the Hermit club, when the YMCA building reopened in 1931.

"This request by Chapman is another exhibition of his great loyalty to the Mansfield YMCA and further evidence of the sincere interest of Chapman in the youth work program in the city," Lake said. "To be sure that the local YMCA will go forward with the rest of the developments of the city he has requested that the best trained and most vigorous of executives be put at the head of the association."

Lake added that the future planning committee has recommended and that the board directed that the qualification standards for the staff personnel of the association be brought up to the standards set by the national organization by the first of the year or as soon thereafter as possible.

Lowell Bourns, chairman of the planning committee. said that other items under consideration by the committee will be brought before the monthly meetings of the directors just as rapidly as their preparation warrants.

coming to the city will be single men, the majority of whom will be war veterans who were unable to find employment in their home communities. All will be carefully "screened" as to their desirability as citizens, Berkey said.

As to room rentals, the civic committee reported that a survey showed the average rental per week for a single room was $4 and $5 and $7 and $8 for a double room.

Berkey said that the men were not expected to arrive in great numbers, but that it was "extremely important" that the committee learns of room accommodations within the next seven days. All workers will be taken from a radius of 125 miles of the city.

The civic committee heading the campaign is made up of representatives of industry, business, labor unions and the city administration.

SEE CHISELING AS TRAGEDY TO VET TRAINEES

Officials Fear Conversion of Program Into 'Cheap Labor' Racket.

By GEORGE E. REEDY, JR.

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)—Officials of the Veterans Administration, brooding over chiseling in the government's on-the-job training program, assert that the real tragedy is the loss of opportunity to the veteran himself.

Fully as important as the money being spent on the program is the fact that many veterans need real training to advance in civilian life. And in far too many instances, officials say, the veterans are not getting the training for which the government is paying.

Under the GI Bill of Rights, a veteran is entitled to a maximum of four years of training depending upon length of service. If he should take those four years in a worthless "course" or spend them drawing pay for "on-the-job" training when he is actually just continuing in his old job, he is merely forfeiting his opportunity for real training.

One approach to assuring real training for the veteran is a bill signed by President Truman yesterday. It would set up firm standards in the plants and factories which the states approve for on-the-job training.

The measure authorizes the federal government to defray part of the expenses incurred by the states in inspecting these plants and factories. And it sets a ceiling on total compensation received by the GI apprentice.

Hereafter, the total compensation—wages plus government subsistence payments received by a single on-the-job trainee will not be more than $175. If he is married or has other dependents, his total will not be more than $200.

This month's subsistence checks will not be adjusted in accordance with the new law, but veterans subject to cuts in allowances will have to pay back the excess funds they receive.

The veterans administration believes the new bill will go a long way toward suppressing chiselers. But Gen. Omar N. Bradley, veterans' administrator, says that if it does not work, he intends to ask for more stringent legislation.

Officials in the labor department have been urging that the on-the-job training program be supervised by joint management-union committees. These groups could keep a close watch on the individual projects and guarantee that it would be training instead of labor at substandard wages, they say.

None of the cases of petty chiselers cited by the VA, they claim, have involved the programs of the apprenticeship training service. An estimated 68,000 veterans are participating in this program and receiving government subsistence checks.

Under this program, joint management-labor committees draw up apprenticeship standards. These courses all require at least two years of training plus 144 hours of classroom instruction.

The cases which the VA claims to be the real threat to its program are those in which the veteran is being hired as cheap labor under the pretext of learning a trade. Typical is the case of an ex-GI hired as a garage mechanic in a small southern town.

His starting salary was $35 a week. When the garage was certified by the state agency to give training, the veteran applied for training as a foreman. As soon as he was accepted, the garage cut his salary to $23 a week. It explained that the government subsistence check would make up the rest.

In a western state, a large retail chain was approved for training store managers. The company outlined a two and one-half year program and said the trainees would receive $200 a month on completion of the training.

The company was thus enabled to hire good men as managers at $75 to $110 per month. It was later discovered that the firm had never intended to pay more than $150 and that the "training program" was merely a means of getting good men at a low salary.

There have been fewer complaints about the institutional training in colleges, trade schools and business schools which are more easily checked than the on-the-job training establishments. But even here, VA has caught a few fast ones.

One trade school in the west was certified to teach refrigeration after an inspection had disclosed the finest equipment and machinery available. An inspector dropped in a few weeks later to make a routine check. He discovered that most of the machinery was gone.

Swimming Stars Will Be In Spotlight At Water Safety Show Sunday at Liberty Park

Casting Expert to Show City's Fishermen How It's Done.

By MARGUERITE MILLER

Bathing beauties seldom go in the water and swimming stars seldom are bathing beauties, but the four All-American swimming stars who will grace Mansfield's Water Safety show Sunday at Liberty park are both beautiful and talented.

Heading the group of stars is 19-year-old blond Betty Lachok who will appear here with the Firestone club four. Miss Lachok won two national championships and established two new American records last year in distance meets. Chosen with Miss Lachok for the Firestone distance team were Berniece Looney, 19, and Kathleen Mahoney, 15, who will also appear here for the show.

* * *

PRETTY 16-YEAR-OLD CHAMPION TO BE HERE

Pretty, 16-year-old Loretta McElroy, also of the Firestone club, who holds the title for the 220-yard breast stroke in the junior class, will be another star of the show.

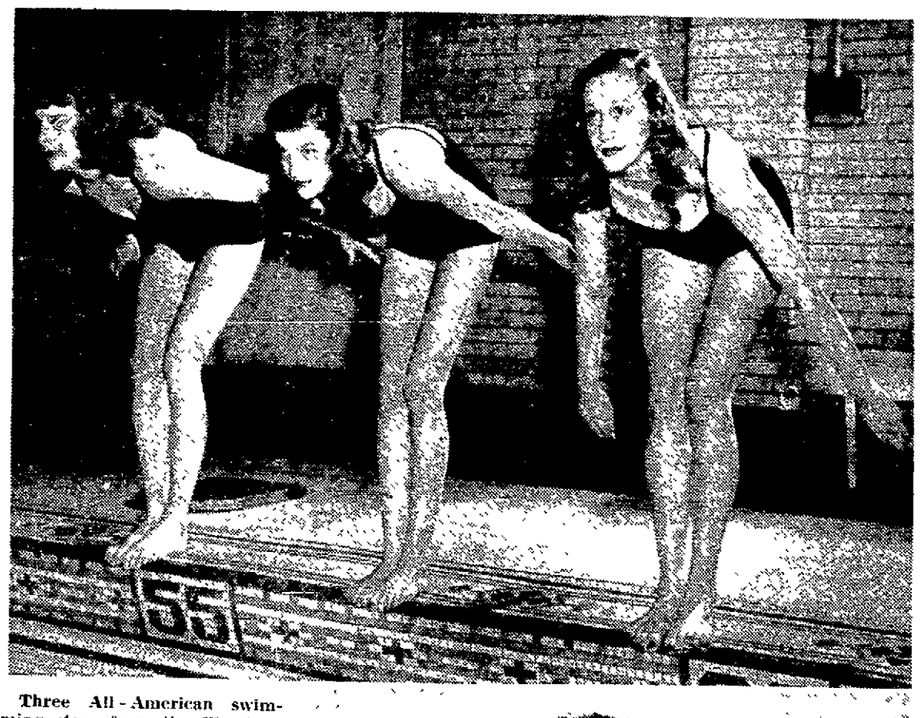
The water show not only promises to be a miniature aquacade for swim fans but an instructional show as well for those who need some tips on safety practice in boating, swimming and rescues.

J. Gilbert Baird will serve as master of ceremonies for the show.

Sponsored jointly by the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce and the Richland County Red Cross Water Safety council, the show will feature equipment rescues from drowning, small craft rescues, swimming rescues, correct canoe and boating practices and demonstrations of swimming strokes.

Fred Bardsley, Red Cross Water Safety council director, will narrate this part of the show, which will also include a demonstration of the iron lung, property of the Mansfield fire department, by Fire Chief L. J. Steele.

For the casting enthusiasts, there'll be a casting contest under the direction of Dick Moulton, expert caster of the True Temper company. Local entries will compete for first and second prizes of rods and reels.



Three All-American swimming stars from the Firestone club, Akron, who will display their swimming and diving forms at the Water Safety show Sunday at Liberty park pool, are shown above. Left to right they are: Berniece Looney, Kathleen Mahoney and Betty Lachok. All three will compete in the National Swimming Senior championships at Shakamak this year. Below, pretty Loretta McElroy, 16-year-old high school student and American record holder for the National Junior 220-yard breast stroke, will be a featured performer of the Firestone club swimming stars who will appear in the Water Safety show.

Other features of the show will be the appearance of Mayor Roy W. Vaughn, Reese Mills, Chamber of Commerce president, Harry Dailey, safety council chairman, and Service-Safety Director William W. Enlow. The new American Legion band will play for the event.

Says Beware Of Platonic Chinchillas

NEW YORK —(U.P.)—Chinchilla breeders across the nation were warned today to be on their guard against platonic pairs.

By pairs, of course, we mean papa and mama chinchilla.

It seems that veterans, and other eager people, have decided to face the postwar world in the fur growing business, and that many of these neophytes are being colloared by low characters who peddle reluctant chinchillas that are definitely uninterested in romance.

No romance means no little chinchillas, no pelts—no business.

"We call such animals 'culls,'" Mrs. Harold Friedman of Babylon, L. I., explained. "And some are being sold right now to unsuspecting breeders at $350 to $500 apiece —which means up to $1,000 a pair."

Mrs. Friedman and her husband operate the Suffolk Chinchilla ranch, largest on Long Island. If a cull shows up on their place, they convert it immediately into part of a new fur coat.

Mrs. Friedman said that the chinchilla raising industry is booming, as never before, but where does it get the beginner if his two refuse to become four? Or the four grow squeamish at thoughts of becoming eight?

"New ranchers, no matter where they live, are smarter to buy proven animals," she explained. By that, I mean those that have already had a litter or two and presumably will continue to do so."

You can't recognize a platonic papa just by looking at him. That wicked gleam in his eyes may mean that he's hungry, and nothing else.

"The only safe way is to go on the individual record," Mrs. Friedman said.

If the beginner hurdles the platonic hazard, chinchilla breeding is a very profitable business—and easier living than prospecting for gold. Mrs. Friedman sells her 22-ounce products for prices ranging from $200 to $1,650 a pair.

The American grown chinchilla industry is still in its pioneer stage. No one knows for certain what prices good pelts will bring in Manhattan's coming auctions.

But for the first sale of American-bred skins, held in 1944, a bundle of 46 prime skins brought the price of $51 per skin—or $2,340 and you can have the works.

Three thousand pelts were offered, but 1,975 were tossed out as damaged or inferior. Two lots of 56 skins sold for $40 a pelt, while lesser grades went at $10.

It takes up to 130 skins to make the average sized woman a good chinchilla coat.

So you can understand the breeder's impatience, if his fur-bearing pals fail to produce.

"A male can produce off-spring for at least 10 years," Mrs. Friedman said.

After that—if he gets tired—he gets the needle.

"It's painless," she said "He never knows what happened."

Interest Rates On Some Loans Lower

Interest rates on loans made on national service life insurance and U. S. government life insurance dropped from five to four per cent after Aug. 1, 1946 it was announced today by Veterans' Administration officials in Mansfield.

For information on the interest rate change area veterans should contact either R. W. Schmunk or J. C. Fuller, contact representative at the office located on the sixth floor of the Walpark building.

It's Hectic and Full of Headaches, This Job of Arranging a State Fair

By JOHN SHINN

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—A state fair doesn't just spring up overnight.

If you want verification for that statement, ask Byron P. Sandles, manager of the Ohio fair, which is scheduled for Aug. 24-30, the first since 1941.

Sandles took time out today from checking hog registrations and arranging for a three-ring circus—and twenty other tasks all going at once—to explain some of his troubles.

"We've been on the job since May, working from 7:30 in the morning until midnight or later—and the end still isn't in sight," he said.

"Our main problem has been undoing in four months what the army did in four years."

The army took over the fairgrounds during the war, and reconversion meant replacing seats ripped out of the stadium and grandstand, rebuilding stalls removed from the huge horse stables, and many other jobs.

But that was only the beginning of the worries of Sandles and his assistants, only one of whom had had past experience with state fairs. The important thing was to arrange for all the things that make up a fair—the exhibits, competitions, food concessions, entertainment.

Plan New Features.

The fair will have several features that have not been part of past Ohio fairs, Sandles explained. One of these is the great exhibition of all the state departments, where Ohioans will be able to see just what their state has been doing in such widely separated fields as archeology and nursing, forestry and child welfare.

The National Belgian horse show wil take place at the fair for the first time in Ohio.

The North American sheep dog trials will give middle-westerners a chance to see the carefully trained collies that guard and guide sheep on western ranches.

In the entertainment line, there will be that three-ring circus, a daily cavalcade of music featuring the music of Jo Sanders and Tommy Tucker, a five-day racing program featuring the Governor's Cup race.

On Sunday morning, Aug. 25, all these things will be suspended and O. L. Willits, head of the Ohio Council of Churches, will conduct a non-denomination church service.

All of this involves seemingly endless details, most of which must get his personal attention, Sandles said.

One of the principal headaches has been obtaining equipment and supplies.

"Multiply the trouble you have getting a shirt by the huge amount of bunting we need for decoration, and you'll have some idea of what we're up against," Sandles said.

And with that he turned to explain to someone that they owed $22 instead of $12 for stall rent, to someone else that 42 inches was high enough for a food counter, and to another that arrangements had already been made to douse the whole fair in DDT.

He turned back and ran a big hand through what was left of his hair.

Ex-OSR Inmate Sent To Pen

Paul Duncan, 19-year-old Mansfield reformatory inmate, who escaped May 31 from the Sandusky honor camp, pleaded guilty to an automobile theft charge in Marysville yesterday and was sentenced to a one-to-20-year term.

Union county Common Pleas Judge R. L. Cameron passed sentence after hearing Duncan's request that he be sent to the Ohio penitentiary instead of being returned to the reformatory.

Arthur L. Glattke, reformatory superintendent, said that Duncan was received Nov. 2, 1945, from Butler county on a one-to-15-year sentence for burglary. After escaping the youth stole an automobile in Delaware.

Picked up by authorities in Plain City, Madison county, he escaped again and stole another car. He was finally apprehended by Union county authorities May 29.

BERRY TIP

Better Strawberries Possible Expert Says.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — (UP) — Don't let strawberry plants of the annual blooming variety bloom and bear fruit their first year, says V. W. Kelley, extension horticulturist of the University of Illinois.

This weakens the plants and delays formation of runner plants which will bear the crop in 1947, he says. To prevent them from bearing, operators can walk through the patch and pull off any blooms or fruits, he suggests.

Everbearing varieties should be allowed to bear the first year, he states.

Spanish ladies of the 1500's wore perfumed gloves when appearing at court.

25 County Patients Taking New 'Speed Cure' For Syphilis

Area residents infected with syphilis today are getting the benefits of a war-time developed "speed cure" at Lockbourne, near Columbus, Dr. W. B. Wild, city-county health commissioner, reports.

The city-county health department has already sent 25 patients to the recently-opened clinic which is located at a former army air base.

Where treatments used to take six months, they now take 10 days, Dr. Wild said. All of the Mansfield area's 25 patients have shown "definite signs of improving" after the treatment, the commissioner said.

Average treatment for "early" cases includes nearly two million units of penicillin, and five doses of arsenic and three of bismuth, given over a 10-day period, according to Dr. Wild.

Cases in the advanced stages get the penicillin-arsenic-bismuth treatment, plus a fever-producing treatment.

After release, the patient is given a series of blood tests in the local health offices to determine whether the "cure" is permanent or temporary, Dr. Wild said.

He said that all patients are given blood tests every month for the first six months; then twice during the next six-month period and, finally, once a year for the next five years.

Since January of this year there have been 381 new venereal disease cases examined at the city VD clinic.

Prague Children Send U. S. Gifts

PRAGUE—(CP)—Prague school children could think of only one way to say "thank you" to American children who sent them parcels through the Red Cross.

The children sent their own packages to the United States—packages containing Czechoslovak dolls, embroidery, Czech stamp collections and other items designed to please American children just as much as American chocolate and toothbrushes delighted the Czechs.

NOT FROM ENEMY

PRATT, Kan.—(NS)—The Rev. Norris J. Stokes, Baptist minister at Pratt, is a careful man—especially when it comes to mysterious packages. He received a package recently and, rather than open it, took it to police. Police Inspector Emmett Scantlin unwrapped the parcel. There was a five-pound sack of sugar in it.

MANSFIELD, OHIO, FRIDAY, AUGUST 9, 1946

It was in 1919, remember, that there was also much talk about "keeping the profits out of war."

Anybody with the cash can buy an aircraft carrier, but the navy reserves the right to be curious as to why anybody should want one.

Simplification of the Chinese typewriter has reduced the number of characters to 5,400—so that it can be better handled by grade school pupils, perhaps.

Fourth Special Session Called

WHILE a fourth special session of the Ohio legislature, scheduled for Tuesday, August 20, seems to be piling up special sessions somewhat too frequently, from an economy standpoint, this one seems justified by the need for quick action in raising the state ceiling on old age pensions, so as to benefit under recent federal action which increases grants to states.

Increase in living costs hits pensioners and other dependents on public aid, as well as persons who are making their own way, and it is reasonable to assume that adjustments must be made to increase grants to care for pensioners, blind persons, and dependent children, as well as to provide higher pay for state employes.

In addition to considering pension raises, the special session is designed to set up commissions for the study of tax revenues and distribution, and to make a survey of salaries of state employes—both to be in readiness to report at the next regular session to convene in January.

The state's tax structure has been sadly in need of revision for a number of years, and this need becomes more pressing as present and prospective requirements of some cities are considered, together with larger expenditures by state government.

Veterans To Observe 'Victory Day'

THESE days of August just a year ago were days of tremendous events. The first two atom bombs fell on Japan. Russia hurried into the war on the side of the Allies. And Japan offered to quit.

Here in Mansfield there was tension. There was excitement. There was wild hope that the war was over. Then came the final announcement that the war WAS over. The city fairly exploded with noise and hearts in almost every home were lightened.

All this was at home. But Mansfielders were scattered to every corner of the globe. They celebrated the end of the war with their buddies. Now most of them have come home and next Wednesday the veterans of World War II will celebrate with all of their home-town friends.

It is entirely fitting that these veterans should plan and carry out the first post-war Victory day events. It is their own day. And they, better than anyone else, can be counted on to not forget those of their comrades who will never return.

For the veterans this first Victory day has every right to be a day of celebration, of marching, and of military ritual. For the community at large August 14 may well be a day of thoughtfulness as to how far the world has come along the road to consolidating the victory which these men were winning just a year ago.

Russian Picnickers Not So Different

THE SOVIET purchasing commission leased the estate of the late J. P. Morgan at Glen Cove, L. I., and has turned it, in the modern Soviet manner, into a sort of beach resort and picnic ground, much to the annoyance of neighbors. Families of Soviet employes come out there for good times. On weekends they charter busses and come in droves.

Neighbors say they wouldn't mind the Russians having a good time. But they do mind the beer, milk and pop bottles. They mind the banana skins and cracker boxes. They mind the general dirt and disorder and mess.

Canadians also complain bitterly of the tin cans and other messes left by American tourists in their travels. But observation fails to disclose that Canadian tourists and picnickers are any less unlovely in the traces they leave. As for American parks and beaches, unless policed and carefully supervised, they present a "messy" appearance on Monday mornings.

Russians really aren't so different from the rest of the world. But the fact makes the need for community housekeeping no less.

Curiosity Leads To Knowledge

THAT OLD saying, "Curiosity killed a cat," while not authenticated, may at least be accepted as possible. Cats, in spite of all their cleverness, have frequently been known to get themselves into unnecessary trouble, apparently because they wanted to know something they were not quite sure about.

But all the curiosity of all the animals in human or feline history is nothing in comparison with the curiosity of human beings. If proof were needed, the enormously difficult and expensive quest for knowledge of the behavior of an atomic bomb would surely settle the argument.

Man is the animal which, above all the other animals, wants to know. He is so eager to acquire knowledge that scientists have named him "Homo Sapiens" or "Man the Knower." Speaking in general, he always wants to find out what is going on near and far, and to store the facts in his memory.

That is what has put him where he is in knowledge and mental power, above the other animals. And the tremendous quest for understanding about atomic energy, perhaps the most wonderful of the instruments yet discovered, is one of the most striking examples in all human history.

Isaac Wrightsman, of Mooreland, Indiana, who ran for township trustee, has the secret of an inexpensive campaign. His total expenses were 27 cents for penny post cards, and he won.

THE BUCKET BRIGADE

Russian Action Disappoints China

By GLENN BABB

CHINA is giving evidence of disappointment over the fruits of her bargain with Soviet Russia, embodied in the treaty signed the day of Japan's surrender nearly a year ago. She has acted to block the application of Outer Mongolia, a Soviet satellite, for membership in the United Nations.

China's recognition of the quarter-century old fact that Outer Mongolia had shaken off the ties that had bound her lightly to the Chinese state was one element of the bargain. In return China received Moscow's pledge of aid to be given solely through the national government then at Chungking—to the exclusion of the Chinese Communists — and Russian recognition of Chinese sovereignty in Manchuria.

From neither of these Russian undertakings has China benefitted to any appreciable extent. The pledge to favor the national government as against the Communists has been meaningless; there is no conclusive evidence that the Communists have received any considerable active Russian support, but neither has Moscow aided Chiang Kai-Shek's regime, the Communists remain a powerful threat to end Chiang's two decades of rule; the country is torn by strife which threatens to become full scale civil war despite efforts of the United States, through General George C. Marshall and Ambassador J. Leighton Stuart, to bring peace and unity.

As for Manchuria, the grip of the Communists on the greater part of that once richly developed region has made a travesty of recognition of Chinese sovereignty.

The Chinese nationalists have had little good of the fine ports, railways and industries which they hoped to recover when Japan was smashed. The Russians, withdrawing, left little of the great munitions and heavy industry plants the Japanese had built to feed their war machine. Reparations and spoils of war, the Russians said.

This is the background of the Chinese demand in the membership committee of the United Nations security council that the Mongolian application be shelved for at least a year. Russia and Poland had strongly supported the application. The committee agreed to suspend further action until an accredited envoy from Mongolia could be heard.

The fact is that Outer Mongolia has been firmly in the Russian orbit since 1924, has a government patterned on the Russian model, is tied to Moscow by mutual aid treaty, went into the war with 80,000 men at Russia's heels in the last week of fighting.

The China-Russia treaty of 1945 provided that China would recognize Mongolian independence if a plebiscite showed the Mongolian people desired it. The plebiscit was held last October: the result, as announced in Moscow, was: For independence, 483,291; against, zero.

The preliminary divisions in the ranks of the United Nations over new memberships indicate deepen the cleavage between Russia and the western powers.

There seems likelihood of strong objection to at least four of the eight applications. Admission is by a two-thirds vote of the general assembly, but before an application gets to the parent body it must pass the security council. And since membership is considered a matter of substance, the veto right of the five big powers in the council makes possible for any one of them to keep any applicant in outer darkness.

China can, if she remains opposed, bar the door to Outer Mongolia. Britain has indicated that she cares little for another Russian satellite, Albania, and Greece's fight against Albanian entry bids fair to get big power support.

The Russian press has been sniping at Trans-Jordan, newly freed from her ties to Britain, and France has little friendship at the moment for Siam, with whom she is having a bitter border dispute over Indochina.

The other applicants are Portugal, Iceland, Ireland and Afghanistan, and no opposition to them has appeared.

Looking Back

TODAY IN HISTORY

On August 9, 1912, a severe earthquake, centering in the Dardanelles and affecting the entire district between Constantinople and Adrianople, destroyed several European towns and caused heavy loss of life.

Dave Boone Says:

WELL, those Chicago law-enforcement officials certainly made a sickening circus of that Heirens case. Letting one of the most shocking series of murders of all time become an orgy of publicity and a Roman holiday for cameramen and the morbid public did the battle against juvenile delinquency no good.

When they see their elders making a public circus of a revolting crime by having an alleged killer re-enact it for pictures before grinning and cavorting crowds, how can the kids be expected to be horrified by crime?

* * *

About the only thing Chicago didn't do was to arrange for jazz bands, a master of ceremonies, some decorated floats and a couple of slick comedians. The press didn't look any too good, either.

Timely Editorial

Song of the Tomato.

Although some denizen of Tin Pan Alley likely has turned out a ditty in which he calls his sweetie a tomato, the big red fruit itself should be theme for a stirring song. And the ballad ought to be linked to August.

You may have tomato juice and canned tomatoes and the hot house variety all through the year, but August is the time when you pluck them from your garden—if you had the foresight to set out a few dozen plants late in spring—and take them fresh to table for one of the finest delights within the reach of man.

They not only are good—they're good for you. These days they are bustin' out all over the vines, as jewel-like in color as nature offers. Besides, they will deliver their gifts practically free of toil.

When someone complains about the summer heat, just remind him that hot weather is necessary to produce sweet corn and tomatoes, two of man's greatest solaces in a sometimes unfriendly universe—Minneapolis Star-Journal.

Henry has now waited nine months to say, "I told you so" on his unemployment prediction and the best he can get out now is "it's still coming."

* * *

But it has taken him longer than usual to file his amended forecast. When he put out the report that auto wages could rise without car prices rising he had the whole thing denied in less than five months (Nov. 1-March 15).

* * *

But he ought to be able to foretell the bust . . . he helped the boom with that wrong guess on auto wages.

* * *

In private industry that would cost a man his job but fortunately, in government there is no penalty for a wrong guess . . . particularly if it's a wrong guess for the right people.

Sides Already Being Chosen for Next War; Factories Pouring Out Red Army Munitions.

PARIS — (By Wireless) — Perhaps it has ceased to be news but, even so, it can't be emphasized too often that this so-called peace conference is actually a choosing up of sides for another war unless something vital and electrifying in the way of diplomacy steps in to prevent it.

Events are moving with terrific speed while this conference moves with humdrum slowness. In the Russian zone of Germany, twelve factories are pouring out munitions for the Red army. In Czechoslovakia, $400,000,000 have been appropriated for munitions—all of a standard type, interchangeable with either the Czech or the Red army. Yugoslavia and Poland also are pouring out standardized Russian arms.

Meanwhile, this peace conference talks sonorously, piously of procedure and presidents. Meanwhile, also, the sides are chosen—the line-up, unless heroic measures head it off—for the next war.

The line-up of Russian satellites never varies. In all the conference voting, from San Francisco through the United Nations assembly in New York to Paris today, Russia's stooges only once voted against their masters in the Kremlin. That was when Belorussia got its signals crossed.

Russia can be absolutely sure of the following votes on every roll-call, come hell or high water: Belorussia, the Ukraine, Poland, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia. Sometimes also Russia swings the vote of defenseless Norway, worried sick over its easy striking distances from the Red army.

The line-up on the other side varies. It is significant that the British dominions frequently desert England. This proves there's real democracy in the British Empire. Australia and New Zealand votes more than half the time against England: Canada about fifty-fifty. South Africa and India are frequently aligned with England, though not always.

The most forthright leaders of the anti-Soviet bloc are Australia, the Netherlands, Brazil and Belgium.

Note—The most pathetic satellite in the Soviet line-up is Jan Masaryk of Czechoslovakia, now nicknamed "The Prisoner of Zenda." Son of old President Tomas Masaryk, who founded the Czechoslovak Republic in Pittsburgh in 1918 under the godfathership of Woodrow Wilson, Jan Masaryk's sympathies are all with the United States and Britain. But with his country solidly surrounded by Russia, he votes consistently with the Russian bloc.

Don't Miss a Trick.

The chief trouble with the American delegation at this peace conference is that it lets the opposing team take too many bases on balls and steal second too many times. Meanwhile, the Russians on the umpire's neck, yelling themselves hoarse over every close decision.

They don't miss a trick. If a bunt down the first-base line is called a foul, the Russian will argue until blue in the face that it was a fair ball. Finally, the opposing side gets tired of wrangling and arguing and gives in.

Thus, little by little, the Russians have won so many minor points that the score is already in their favor—even before the game really gets going good. Here are a few illustrations:

1. Very quietly Russia stacked the separate peace commissions with so many Soviet stooges that she will have the dominant voice on each commission. Each peace treaty will be studied by a separate commission and if Russia controls the commissions, it will report the kind of treaty Russia wants. The commission reports will be hard to reverse in the full conference.

2. Molotov put across a ruling that no Allied nation which failed to declare war on an enemy nation can sit on the commission writing the treaty for that nation. Thus Brazil, not having declared war on Finland, can't sit on the Finnish treaty commission. However, two Russian stooges—the Ukraine and Belorussia—never declared war on Italy or any other enemy country. They were only recognized by United Nations at San Francisco. Yet they will sit on all treaty commissions and no one on the American delegation has had the nerve to row with Molotov over this.

3. Russia never declared war on Bulgaria until the war was over. Thus, by her own rule, she could be barred from sitting on the Bulgarian treaty commission.

Stockyards Bulging; Cattle Keep Coming.

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—The early morning sunlight pierces the dust with a thousand flashing arrows and slowly drives the night's darkness down into the last, lowest shadows of the pens.

The slow awakening of the surrounding city rumbles louder until it gradually rises to a crescendo even greater than the mournful bawling of the cattle.

Citified cow horses—range ponies trained to keep their feet on the slick brick paving—clatter down the alleys between pens.

Whistles and shouts of men blend with the bawling of beasts . . . the pistol-sharp crack of bull-whips . . . the jangle of spurs on pavement . . . the grumble of trucks pulling up to the chutes to disgorge their sweating, rib-heaving, wall-eyed loads.

The big beef run still is on at the Kansas City stockyards, and you look in awed wonder and try to figure out how this country ever could have been short on steaks!

Pen after pen, block after block, the stockyards bulge with beefsteak on the hoof—not to mention pork and mutton—and more come in with each train and truck throughout the day and night.

The big emphasis is on cattle. New sales totals and price records have been set more than once in recent weeks during the daily 9-to-3 trading period. And still the cattle keep coming.

Cowmen, hanging their boot heels over the fences or stomping across the green carpet of the hoof and horn club, grin easy creases into their leathery faces and say the rush was made possible by "the Good Lord and the OPA."

They credit the Lord with bringing an early spring to the long-grass country out there across the flint hills and osage ranges between the Kaw river in Kansas and the Arkansas river in Oklahoma. Bulk of today's in-bound beef is coming from that blue stem sector where the old-time drovers used to put the last layer of market fat on their trail herds en route to Kansas City.

But there are cattle coming from everywhere, for the OPA clinched the Lord's rivets in the big beef rush by threatening to put new price ceilings on meat, come the twentieth of August.

So the stockmen started shipping while the sky was still the limit and the rush throughout July jammed the yards with bulky beef beyond the memory of the oldest of old-timers.

And still the cattle came. A week ago on Monday, all previous records toppled when steers brought $26.50 a hundredweight. But last Tuesday, three choice loads set a new peak at $26.85, and the bidding still keeps going.

It's not alone with cattle. The same day fat lambs went up to $21.65—highest since 1920 and only ten cents below the World War I record—while the day before, hogs went to an all-time high of $24.25.

Needless to say, the packers too are busy. Not so long ago, they were barely operating with skeleton crews and were damning the OPA and the black market for jointly blasting their business.

They've little time to even talk nowadays, what with getting into the pens early to pick and choose and bid and then running full tilt day and night, making beefsteak out of beefs.

You see all manner of men in the yards as the rush goes on—farmers, ranchers, traders, dealers, truckers, cowboys—and they come from everywhere. After they get receipts for their stock they may sit around awhile and watch the selling, pick up a little gossip and—stockmen though they are—shake their heads in wonderment at the beef still flooding in.

For your part, you sit there and wonder dizzily if you dreamed it all those months and years when the bad-tempered butcher glowered at you and barked:

"That's what I said—no beefsteak!"

Anti-Union Agitators Active In South.

WASHINGTON—The Gene Talmadges, the Bilbos and the Gerald L. K. Smiths have their small-fry imitators.

Lots of them are active in the south today, busy in various ways trying to impede and hamstring the AFL and CIO union organizing campaigns. They get financial support from somewhere — it would be interesting to know where—for their pseudo-patriotic, religious sort of labor-baiting that smacks of an American brand of Fascism, much as one dislikes to use tags. But it seems appropriate here.

Some are found in the Ku Klux Klan, through the Klan, which started in Gene Talmadge's state of Georgia, has not extended to Senator Bilbo's Mississippi.

Under the cloak of a spurious Americanism, the revived Klan is striking furtively at labor, just as it was a few years ago when this writer spent some time in the south exposing such activities.

Other than the Klan anti-labor operators, some of whom are ministers, there are other figures active in the south.

Two of the most persistent are Sherman Patterson and the man who calls himself Parson Jack Johnson. These two are hit-and-run operators, moving from place to place on the heels of union organizers.

When a campaign is started to organize a plant, you can be sure that the workers will begin to receive copies of the sporadic publications of these two gentlemen—if they can be so termed—designed especially for the occasion.

Mr. Patterson calls his paper "Militant Truth," while the parson's is "The Trumpet." The gist of their preachments is that it is against church principles to belong to a union, an artifice long used in the south. It capitalizes upon the religion fundamentalism prevalent among southern workers. It is a fright psychology. It is effective often, whatever you may think of hypocrites who by such methods would try to hold down workers, keep them subservient and discourage them from improving their economic position.

It evidently gets support from industrialists here and there, for these "editors" get their lists of workers from some source, and the company lists are the private property of mill owners.

Another operator with a somewhat different approach is James T. (Jimmy) Karam, who has organized in Arkansas his Veterans Industrial association, which obviously is an anti-union and strike-breaking outfit.

It does not seem to be generally known, but Jimmy Karam was a strong-arm leader several years ago in one of the squads in Gadsden, Ala., maintained to fight unionization during that bloody era so widely publicized at that time.

His organization, he said, is to take care of labor and racial agitators. The testimony of newspapermen who have attended his "press conferences" is that he is surrounded by a tough, husky bunch, and that the atmosphere about his Little Rock headquarters is quite alarming because of the gangster touch.

"Political Dynamite" In Anti-Trust Suits.

WASHINGTON—Although this is the midsummer lull when, traditionally, Washington is expected to shut down until the return of another congress, the anti-trust division of the department of justice has been extremely active in recent weeks.

Anti-trust suits have been filed against radio condenser companies, companies making mimeograph machines, a group of optical firms, roller-bearings companies, a group of taxicab companies in Chicago, and manufacturers of patented buttons and fasteners.

Assistant Attorney General Wendell Berge, head of the anti-trust division, is a conscientious public servant who believes the anti-trust laws should be enforced, no matter who is hurt.

In a book called "Economic Freedom for the West," published recently by the University of Nebraska, Berge outlines his views on how enforcement of the anti-trust laws would help to bring new and independent industry to the western states.

At times, however, anti-trust action touches high policy and high policy makers, and then the political fur flies. That happened not long ago as the result of a grand jury inquiry into savings banks and mortgage companies in New York City.

The banks were alleged to have conspired to fix the interest rate on loans in order to eliminate any uncouth competition. James C. Wilson, head of the anti-trust office in New York, and Lee Loevinger, a special attorney in the same office, were aiming at criminal indictments.

When word of this got out among the banking fraternity in New York, it caused tremors that were soon reflected on political seismographs in Washington. An official of one of the banks called Commodore James J. Vardaman, jr., who had just been appointed to the board of governors of the federal reserve system.

Vardaman promptly called officials of the treasury and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. He makes no secret of his action. He acted, he says, in order to permit interested federal officials to present their opinions to the grand jury. Vardaman feared that criminal indictments might frighten depositors of the banks, especially depositors of foreign birth who might misunderstand the meaning of the action.

Loevinger, it happened, had served under Vardaman during the war. When he and Wilson came to Washington to get a final okay on their plan of action, he talked with Vardaman, who explained his objections to the move.

If any action is ultimately taken, it will probably be on the civil side, with the bankers coming in and promising to refrain from anything resembling anti-trust violation.

Anti-trust action often packs political dynamite. Western senators were vitally interested in the disposition of the Geneva, Utah, steel plant operated during the war by the United States Steel company. They knew that Berge was strongly opposed to permitting "Big Steel" to buy this plant. In fact, he seriously considered resigning when Attorney General Clark ruled that sale to U. S. Steel would not violate the anti-trust laws.

FUN FOR ALL.

A Wisconsin veterans' organization has suggested legalization of slot machines in a state that is quite strict about them. The "take", or a good part of it, would be used by the veterans' group to raise funds for a state bonus.

The idea is intriguing. The veterans would take the money away from themselves and give it back again. And won't everybody have fun.—Omaha World-Herald.

SCHOOL ASKS 3-MILL LEVY FOR 5 YEARS

Buildings Need Repairs, Says Chesterville Board in Voting Tax.

MT. GILEAD—Chesterville board of education at its meeting this week voted to ask citizens at the fall election to approve a three-mill levy for five years for repair of buildings and to meet current expenses. It also decided to add another teacher to the grade schools staff.

Mrs. Goldie Levering was employed by the board to teach in the grades at Chesterville and Mrs. Maybelle Burcaw was employed as music teacher. All teaching positions are now filled at Chesterville except that of commercial teacher.

At Edison the school board Monday night voted to change the school from a six-year grade and six-year high school to an eight-year grade and four-year high school. The change made necessary the employment of another teacher, Mrs. Helen Stone, for the seventh and eighth grades. Mrs. Stone had taught at the Tiro schools for the past five years.

Mrs. Stella Ertley resigned as second grade teacher at Edison and Mrs. Margaret Mosher of Cardington township was hired to take her place. Only one vacancy is now left at Edison, that of an English-music teacher.

At the Iberia schools the board accepted the resignation of Michael Ambreaus and hired Ernest Summerville who formerly taught at Whetstone in Crawford county.

Members of the board of the Lincoln local school district Wednesday night passed a resolution to renew the two-mill levy now in effect for another two years.

Bucyrus Births Exceed Deaths During July; Other Records Topped.

BUCYRUS — Births exceeded deaths nearly three to one in Bucyrus in July, according to figures presented by Charles Griffith, registrar of vital statistics.

Fifty-one births and 19 deaths were recorded in July as against 31 births in July a year ago and 16 deaths. For the first seven months of 1946, births totaled 240 as compared with 237 for the same period last year.

At City hospital an increase in births also was reported for July, 53 births having occurred compared with 36 in July last year and 35 in June this year.

Lungers Re-united In Edmonton, Can.

BUCYRUS — Separated for 20 years by circumstances which have kept them in two countries, Earl Lunger of near North Robinson was reunited this week with his father, George F. Lunger, in Edmondton, Canada.

The trip back to his Canadian birthplace is the first for Lunger since he came to Ohio in 1926 to visit and remained to establish his home. He was accompanied to Canada by his son, Earl.

CRAWFORD UPS BUDGET $50,000

Recorder's Office Asks Double 1946 Figure For Coming Year.

BUCYRUS—Forecasting a possible increase in salaries and other operating expenses the Crawford county commissioners have approved a budget calling for an increase of $50,000 for 1947.

Anticipated receipts are $248,000, which, with the estimated balance of $75,000, will provide an operating revenue of $323,000.

Changes anticipated in operating expenses include a boost in the county recorder's office which has presented a $6,000 budget as against a 1946 figure of $3,700.

Total general fund expenditures are expected to reach $283,270 in 1947 or approximately $50,000 higher than this year's anticipated costs of $235,350.

WON'T SHAVE

Ashland Patrolman May Grow Beard For Pay Raise.

ASHLAND—A giant-sized city patrolman with flowing hair and a bushy beard is what the Ashland citizenry may expect to see sometime in the future if Patrolman George Riggle decides to carry out his idea in behalf of the police department's wage-raising campaign.

"I think I'll give up shaves and haircuts until city council gets around to giving us a raise," Riggle told his fellow patrolmen Thursday. As president of the Fraternal Order of Police here, Riggle has spearheaded the police department's continued requests to city council for raises to place them in a wage bracket comparable with nearby cities of Ashland's size.

DELAYS TAX ACTION

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Action on a new Columbus tax proposal was shelved today pending action by the state. City council voted to defer its plans for a measure to replace the utilities tax recently outlawed by the Ohio supreme court.

Crawford County Divorces, Civil Judgments Increasing

BUCYRUS—A considerable increase in divorces and civil judgments is shown for the year ending June 30, according to the annual report of Clerk of Courts Joe Royer, filed this week with the secretary of state.

A total of 281 divorce actions were filed during the year as against 163 filings for the previous 12 months. The court decided 201 divorce cases during the year as against 119 decided during the previous year.

Of the 201, 48 decrees were granted to husbands: 97 to wives and 46 cases were dismissed. Eighty cases were pending with the close of the fiscal year, nearly double the figure left on the books when the 1945 year closed. Fifty-five children were awarded into the custody of the mothers and 13 were given into the care of fathers.

Disposition was made of 102 civil cases and 33 criminal cases during the year and four civil actions were carried to a higher court.

Cases pending as of June 30 this year included 90 civil actions and 44 criminal cases.

Jury fees exceeded last year's fees, $967.96 as against $880.89. In 14 civil judgments total findings reached $14,713.

BUCYRUS POLICE CONTINUE DRIVE

Six Fined For Failure to Halt at Intersection; Arrests Total 43.

BUCYRUS—Seven more drivers were picked up by police Thursday continuing the police department campaign to clean up traffic violations in Bucyrus.

Those fined for failure to stop at street intersections were John Ralph, Donald Snavely, William Endicott, Donald Pfisterer and Paul Morris, all of Bucyrus, John Vaughn, of Akron, and Donald Watt, of Marion.

The campaign is now in its second week and has netted 53 violators.

DROP 'X'

Huge New Bomber Nearly Out of Experimental Stage.

FORT WORTH, Tex.—(U.P.)—Air force officers said today that the "X" for experimental would be removed soon from the designation of the XB-36, world's newest and largest bombing plane.

The XB-36, a six-engined silver giant with a tail as tall as a five-story building, successfully completed its first flight yesterday. Army officials said the test hop "exceeded all expectations."

Although full details were not disclosed, army spokesmen confirmed that the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft corp. had been given a contract to produce a fleet of the mighty new battleships of the skies. The X designation would be removed, they said, after additional tests.

Conduct Hunt For Missing PBY Plane

HONOLULU —(INS)— Several planes and helicopters searched the sea off the Kaneohe coast of Oahu today in the vicinity where a PBY plane was unofficially reported to have crashed into the sea.

Naval sources said they had no knowledge of any such crash but the unofficial reports indicated a crew of about eight persons may have been lost. No wreckage has yet been sighted.

Pupils in Holmes County Grade Schools Must Get Protection.

MILLERSBURG—Dr. A. J. Earney, Holmes county health commissioner, has announced that all school children entering the first to the ninth grade this fall must be vaccinated against smallpox

All parents also are urged to have children immunized against diphtheria any time after they are six months old.

Two new cases of scarlet fever have been reported to the health office, Miss Mary Shutt, county health nurse reports. They are in a family at Benton. The two other children in this family who were ill with the disease have recovered.

HOLD ESCAPER IN FIVE CRIMES

Cleveland Police Nab Ex-OSR Inmate Accused of Series of Assaults, Thefts.

Cleveland police today held Moses Brown, 22-year-old escaper from the Mansfield reformatory honor camp at Sandusky, wanted in connection with five crimes committed since his escape Tuesday.

Brown was apprehended last night by police while hiding at the rear of his Cleveland east side dwelling. Since Wednesday he had been the subject of an all-out manhunt by northern Ohio and southern Michigan authorities after he had allegedly assaulted a middle-aged Port Clinton woman.

Police said that following Brown's escape from the honor camp, a detail was set to watch his Cleveland home, where his wife resides.

Today, Brown admitted that he escaped the honor camp Tuesday evening and four hours later robbed Gene Montelauro of Sandusky of $50 and stole his auto at gun point. The car was recovered near Port Clinton yesterday, not far from the farm where the woman was brutally assaulted.

Brown denied any connection with the rape attack. He admitted only the robbery and car theft, officers said.

Arthur L. Glattke, reformatory superintendent, said that Brown was received on March 30, 1945, from Cuyahoga county to serve a one-to-seven-year term for larceny.

Bandits Kill Vet, Wound Companion

CHICAGO —(U.P.)— Police searched today for two bandits who killed a former Army Air Forces officer and wounded his ex-WAVE fiancee as they sat in an automobile last night discussing plans for their marriage.

Lewis Zeinz, 26, a veteran of the China-Burma-India war theater, was shot through the heart. Miss Ingrid Janis Larsen, 23, was wounded in the left thigh.

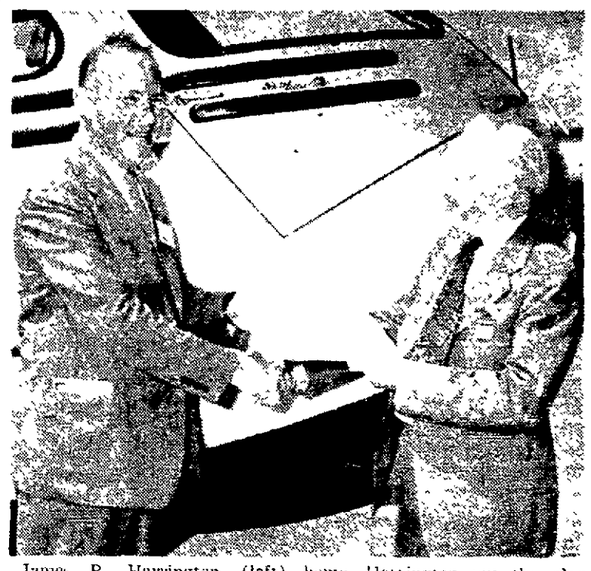
CAMBRIDGE—(U.P.)—Forest W. Heskett revealed today that he had resigned as councilman because the house which he and his family rented, had been sold.

Gets One of First Seabees



James R. Harrington (left), head of Harrington Air Service, Inc., is shown as he received delivery of a new Seabee plane from Gordon C. Sleeper, of the Republic Aviation corporation, at Farmingdale, Long Island. En route home, Harrington put the plane down on Lake Erie twice, but he said he didn't have time to fish. The plane is one of the first Seabees turned out by the Republic corporation. The Harrington firm will sell them in this area.

15 Scouts Set For Camp Trip

Fifteen Scouters, including seven Eagle Scouts and eight others, today were making final preparations for the first annual "Eagle trip" to Canada since the start of the war.

Scout Executive Floyd Dent said the group would leave Mansfield tomorrow or Sunday and return to the city Aug. 24 after two weeks of fishing, canoeing and exploring around Gracefield, Quebec. Headquarters for the Scouters is to be Camp Shagkdome, near Gracefield, which the campers will put in tip-top shape again after four years' absence.

HAS HOPE

Eisenhower Doesn't Believe War's Inevitable.

RIO DE JANIERO—(U.P.)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told a press conference today that he did not believe another war was inevitable but that liberty loving nations cannot neglect their defenses until a world organization takes over the job of maintaining the peace.

Eisenhower said that the world could not stand another war.

Speaking to Brazilian and foreign correspondents in the U. S. embassy, Eisenhower said: "We must face the realities. No country which values liberty and independence can neglect its security and defenses."

Amvet Post Receives Charter, Plans Parade At Bellville

Members of the Bellville-Butler Amvet post, (American Veterans of World War II) last night received their national charter and formulated plans to sponsor a "Victory Day" parade in Bellville Aug. 14 for all veterans of the Bellville-Butler area.

Jack Gourno, state executive secretary for the Amvets, officially presented the post charter to Commander Charles Mishey while Robert E. Rogers, commander of Mansfield Amvet Post No. 26 distributed membership cards to the group, known as Amvet Post No. 43.

Tentative plans for the Bellville-Butler "Victory Day" celebration call for a parade, to be followed by a dance at the Bellville K. of P. hall.

The parade is scheduled to form at 7 p. m.; at the school house, march down School alley to Main street and out on Main to the park.

Bellville-Butler Amvets also discussed last night plans for participating in the annual Bellville street fair, Sept. 11-12-13-14 with a refreshment stand, pending approval of the fair board at a meeting tonight. The next meeting of the post was set for Aug. 22, with meetings to be held afterward on the first and third Thursdays of the month at the Scout cabin.

Can There Be Any Happiness With a Domineering Husband

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

The day is long past when a wife is expected to live under her husband's heavy thumb and love it; to have no interests of her own; never to speak up for herself.

The only catch is that a lot of husbands don't know it. So far as their own lives are concerned, and their businesses, they're up to date. But in their marriage relationship they go back to the era of the caveman for their tactics.

Listen to this, for instance, from a woman whose domineering husband has brought her to the verge of divorce after ten years of misery.

"My husband tells me," she writes, "that I should love him so much I must not seek the friendship of other people, or want to do anything. I mean by that, never belong to anything, play golf, or do my nurse's aide work one day a week which I love. But if I do it against his wishes, he calls the hospital and humiliates me. If I go out with any friend, there is a big fight when I return. He now even forbids me to go to see my parents. He has struck me several times, even ripped my clothes one evening when I started out the door just to sit in the park and get a little air."

She would like to make decisions for herself, she goes on to say, but never dares do so, because any independent action whatever on her part leads to trouble.

"I certainly believe in a couple having outside interests," she says, "so that they do not become dull and stupid. I loathe the life he wants me to lead, it is so narrow. He has no outside interests other than his work as a Lieutenant Colonel in the army; therefore I mustn't have any. His treatment of me has just about driven me to hate him."

Apparently, however, this bully does have at least one outside interest. "While he was overseas," the letter continues, "he carried on a correspondence with his secretary. He always said it was business. Before his boat arrived on this side, one of the secretary's letters was returned to the house, and having read it, I found it was anything but a business correspondence. I have never shown him the letter, but he says if I would, he could explain everything, as his secretary used to enjoy joking with him. I know he took her on several trips before going overseas, but these were for business reasons, so I am to believe.

"He tells me that if I divorce him, he will give very little to take care of my two children. As for myself, I can manage a position. My question is, can a marriage go on under a possessive and dominating husband? I am most unhappy. "J. W."

If I didn't know how many wives put up indefinitely with the same type of bullying, J. W., I'd say that you must have hung up some sort of endurance record by taking 10 years of it. And I don't see why in the world you go on taking it. It's not as though you were the spineless type of woman who would be lost without a man, no matter how brutal, for you say you're anxious to make decisions for yourself and have independent interests.

And since you are sure you can get a position and earn some money, what are you waiting for? Is it because your husband threatens to do so little for the children's support? Don't you know he can be forced by law to support his children, if you have good grounds for divorce—and it looks as though you had, with that secretary in the offing. You migth even get support for the children with nothing more than a legal separation.

Of course, laws are different in different states, and you'd have to be sure of your case before you took definite steps. But you can easily find out what your position is by consulting a lawyer, and if you cannot afford legal advice, the Legal Aid Society might help you. This organization gives legal advice either at a small fee or entirely without charge to proper cases. You might write this group if you are interested, at its New York headquarters, 11 Park Place, New York City, and ask where New Jersey branch is, and whether you could obtain help. If I can give you any further help, please write me again.

U. S. College Styles Go to Paris

By DOROTHY ROE

When America sends fashions to Paris, that's news. Shown here is an American college girl's wardrobe, selected by a magazine (Mademoiselle) and taken to Paris by Helene Garnell, New York milliner, who chose 18-year-old Therese Edwige Elvira Husson, a French student at the Sorbonne, as a typical Parisian undergraduate. Therese is shown wearing her U. S. clothes—and loving them!

ALL-AMERICAN . . . Therese is ready for class in her typical U. S. casual dress of gray zephyr wool which can be varied infinitely by different accessories.

HANDS ACROSS THE SEA . . . French student Therese Husson is completely at home in her American collegiate suit of soft blue checked worsted by Miron, with shirt sleeves, youthful turnover collar, skirt built for action; and Yankee boots.

YANKEE CLASSIC . . . First choice of American college girls, the reefer coat, worn here by a French student at the Sorbonne in Paris. Of black wool, it has the popular outsize hip pockets of this season and two rows of gilt buttons.

COULD BE ANYWHERE . . . But it's outside the Maison Internationale in Paris that Therese wears her black velveteen date dress designed in U. S. A.

How Parents Can Help The Stuttering Child

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

MOST children stutter (or stammer), some as they develop speech. All of our children did then to a slight degree. So have our grandchildren. It is my guess that practically all children stutter a bit during their early years of speech, though this stuttering is so rare as to escape notice of the average person. How easy it may be for any little child to become a permenent stutterer, if he is not properly understood, treated and guided, is not hard for me to imagine.

If only we could get all parents, teachers, older children, and all other persons who deal with children or mingle with them to treat these children as they should be treated, and if the growing child were properly protected from undue excitement and other emotional strain, there would be almost no stutterers.

Sometimes noticeable stuttering begins suddenly following a fright or illness or during great excitement or excessive fatigue. Often the cause is not apparent. Yet, almost surely, stuttering indicates lack of emotional stability.

With few exceptions, stuttering is an emotional problem. Therefore, the younger the child in which it occurs the easier and more certain the cure, since emotional disturbances tend to grow more complex with increasing age. The adolescent or adult stutterer must make so many more social contacts than the stuterer of three or four and has, in consequence, a much larger social environment for increasing his feelings of self-consciousness.

So you see it is harder to modify the attitude of those who come in contact with this older stutterer, to his advantage, than with the younger stutterer. Moreover, the older stutterer has the long period of failure to discourage him. Nevertheless, there is probably no entirely hopeless age.

There are, of course, some cases of stuttering of any age which only the specialist should deal with. Yet, stuttering, which so often begins from 3 to 4 years of age, may be prevented or cured through proper understanding and guidance by his parents. They need not be speech experts nor know anything at all about the mechanics of speech.

They do need to have abundant poise and self-control and wide, deep understanding of the child and how he feels. As a rule, we can do most to help the young child overcome stutering when this child does not know we are trying to help him concerning it.

If your child stutters, act as if you are not aware of it. Try to get all children and adults associating with him to do likewise. Assume the attitude that all is going well. Don't stare at his mouth while he stutters or hold your breath. Breathe naturally. Read daily to this child. Keep your voice low and radio silent while he is awake.

Protect him from undue fatigue, excitement and irritation while he is awake. Hold him rigidly to the afternoon nap and regular bedtime. Have him checked by your doctor. Be happy with improvement after several months. If there be no visible improvement by that time, consult a speech specialist.

Your Baby

By EDNA MAE M'INTOSH

At one time or another every mother has wondered whether she is giving her baby the proper care and training. Well about the best clue to the answer is to take the trouble of learning about the activities and actions that your baby should be undertaking at his or her age. If you are trying to obtain discipline that is beyond baby's ken at this age, then baby becomes bewildered, cross and stays "naughty."

You want to be sure to explain any request so that it is clear to the child. Don't say, "Put your arm in the left sleeve first," if the child isn't at an age where such an instruction is understandable. How much simpler for every one if you say, Put your arm in this sleeve (pointing), yes, in this left sleeve." That type of request teaches, obtains the action needed, and does not confuse the child.

Try to put yourself in baby's place, and through careful observation of his behavior pattern, to call for action in a way that ean be followed.

The same basic prinoiple oan be followed in feeding. As baby grows, the feeding pattern must gradually grow too. Foods that are too "young" or too "old" will delay the physical development of your baby. Food must be geared to baby's age as to both type and quantity. And sudden changes should be avoided as far as possible. Don't, for instance, switch from strained baby foods to chopped baby foods all at one time. Gradually add the chopped foods to the diet, and make a gradual transition.

Books on child training, a visit to a good nursery school, will help you get the specific information you need. But on top of that you need your own good common sense. Put yourself in baby's place, use your imagination and judgment so that baby's training and diet grows and develops with him.

Washington Letter

—By Jane Eads

WASHINGTON—Ras H. Imru, Ethiopian minister to the United States, is one of the capital's most ardent sightseers.

Only recently arrived from Addis Ababa; he has already visited most of the big government buildings and other places of historical or artistic interest.

The new minister was Governor General of the Province of Gondar before coming to the United States. During the Ethiopian war he distinguished himself by refusing to surrender to the Italians. Finally, in the last battle of the war, he was captured and taken to Italy. He was held prisoner for six years on the Islands of Ponza and Lipari and later in Calabria.

The minister has seven daughters and one son. His eldest daughter, Yenissratch, is married to the Ethiopian minister in Moscow. His son Michael, 16, is studying in England and plans to become a lawyer.

Only two daughters, Ruth, 19, and Judith, 17, are with the Minister and Mrs. Imru. They are studying English.

Mrs. Imru is a pretty woman and described as devoutly religious. The family are members of the Coptic faith.

The Minister likes to write, sketch and play tennis. But his great hobby is photography, in which he became interested in Italy. At the legation he has a room fixed up where he does his own developing. He has mastered the art of color photography and is now taking up motion pictures.

* * *

On the Emperor's 55th birthday it looked down on several hundred guests attending a reception in celebration of the anniversary. The throng included representatives from most of the embassies and legations, members of the cabinet, State Department and business men interested in the affairs of Ethiopia.

Greenery and red and orange flowers filled the various rooms, matching the flag which hangs over the legation. The lawn, where the cocktail bar and buffet had been set up, was dotted with huge red, green and orange umbrellas and small tables decorated with flowers the same color.

One of Ras Imru's more important diplomatic tasks at the moment is to negotiate for an American loan for his country. For the past several weeks he has been dickering with the Export-Import bank for a $5,000,000 credit. It is needed, of all things, to pay the salaries of a number of American advisers to the Ethiopian government.

Iberia Church to Hold Homecoming

IBERIA—The Iberia Methodist church is planning its homecoming for Sept. 1 with a basket dinner at noon and an all-day program.

Rev. Clarence Riggs of Lakeside will be the guest speaker for the morning service. Mrs. Olive Garfield and Mrs. Linerd Roesch are on the invitation committee, program, Linerd Roesch, Virgil Garverick and Mrs. W. Lee Rinehart; dinner, Mrs. Robert Riggs, Mrs. Charles Seiters and Mrs. L. Rinehart. The Johnsville male chorus will sing.

When Quebec was the capital of New France there were but 353 people there.

Revamping of Tax Structure Needed to Help Ohio Cities

(Concluding story in a series on the financial condition of Ohio cities.)

By KEN DAVIS

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Financial salvation for empty-pocketed Ohio cities is possible, tax experts say, but don't look for any gold-paved streets overnight.

The specter of tax delinquency haunts the future. It certainly will come with depression; it could come in the collision of cities' great need for every cent they can corral and the spiraling prices of real estate.

Wages and salaries are shooting upward and materials' costs are by their side. Tax fields available to local governments have been pared seriously in recent years and the war-time opportunity for slashing bonded indebtedness is gone.

Just to complete the ebony-hued landscape, Ohio cities face increased demands for government services, higher costs, wages and salaries plus increased bonded indebtedness shackled by a 10-mill real estate tax limitation imposed by their own citizens in 1933.

Eye Real Estate.

Dr. L. Edwin Smart, research chief for the state department of taxation, points out that cities, fenced in by narrowed taxation fields, and hampered by real property tax limitations, may begin widespread revaluation of real property based on current inflated real estate prices.

Workable for a time, such revaluation would bring quick delinquency if inflation hit high levels, Smart said.

State Tax Commissioner C. Emory Glander, minimizing this danger, says Ohio cities are more likely to turn to unusual forms of tax revenue. That they must seek means of relining their pockets is a prospect which doesn't admit of much argument.

The Ohio Chamber of Commerce points out that if local governing costs increased for the next decade as they did between 1935 and 1944, cities, counties and school districts would be spending $438,000,000 in 1954. The figure for 1944 was $359,863,438, with cities accounting for $153,586,627.

Want Improvements.

Ohioans are looking forward to some of those tangible improvements of which they dreamed during the war. Witness their attitudes toward bond issues this spring:

Out of 139 bond issues presented from Jan. 1, 1946, to July 17, 1956, either in the primaries or in special elections, Ohioans approved 110 calling for a total expenditure of $64,751,830.

Citizens of Cuyahoga county endorsed 31 out of 32 issues presented, with an expenditure of $45,405,000 scheduled for those approved measures.

In 1930, total city bonded indebtedness in Ohio was $438,681,677. This had been cut by 1944 only to $321,354,031. Yet, in that time, school debt had been cut from $239,000,000 to $103,000,000, and counties, too, had done a remarkable job of paring their debt from $170,000,000 to about $58,500,000.

They have refunded bonds, introduced city consumers' utilities taxes, payroll and income taxes, installed parking meters and are considering liquor license taxes and skill board licenses.

The experts say it seems certain more cities will turn to the payroll and income tax tossed into the Ohio scene by hard-pressed Toledo.

Need Cooperation.

The utilities tax temporarily, at least, has been invalidated by the state supreme court.

In the eyes of Tax Commissioner Glander, solutions to the tax situations faced by Ohio cities can be obtained only by a state-wide program of coordination — which means elimination of over-lapping —and cooperation — which means mutual effort instead of irate combat—between the state and the cities.

"The only way in which we can get coordination," Glander said, "is by a thorough, business-like and non-partisan survey of the entire state tax structure."

He declared that by this means, perhaps, it would be found that the state is levying certain taxes which might well be abandoned to local governments.

Outside of the admissions tax, which he said he believed could be so delegated, Glander declined to list such sources of revenue. He did assert that, by and large, excise taxes lent themselves to local collection more readily than other types.

It's a good wager that such a reorganization of the tax structure will have to be made some day—perhaps at the next legislature.

So, here's the picture of civic futures as seen by the experts:

Cities will continue to try new revenue measures of all types; will continue to want subsidies from state-collected taxes — such as the state sales tax payments of $16,000,000, will continue to face mounting bonded indebtedness.

They may hurry the wave of tax delinquency sure to come with the next depression by unwise revaluation.

Eventually, the entire tax structure of the state is going to have to be revamped.

Mayor Loses Fight Against Wee Homes

ELYRIA—(AP)—Building Inspector Hart Dickason apparently was the victor today in a clash with Mayor A. R. Agate over the building of prefabricated 20 by 20-foot houses.

City council yesterday voted to support Dickason in his contention that the houses complied with the city building code. The mayor had ordered Dickason to cease issuing the permits and later made an unsuccessful plea to council to change the code to ban the houses.

STATE EXAMINER LISTS FINDINGS

Errors of $995 Discovered in Township Payments Checked By Ohio Officials.

A total of $995.57 in findings for and against Richland county's 18 townships and justices of the peace was listed today in a report of public accounts by the state auditor's bureau of inspection and supervision.

Most of the $995.57 is in findings in favor of the townships and against individuals and business establishments doing business with the townships, some $436 had already been paid in correction payments by the time the report was made, H. H. Hastings, state examiner, reported.

The report, based on the periodic examinations made by the state auditor's office, covered the period from February, 1943, to November, 1945. Copies are on file in the Richland county auditor's and prosecutor's offices.

Of the 64 findings, only eight amounted to $50 or more and only two were in excess of $100. A finding of $194.80 in favor of Butler township was made against a recipient of poor relief and the operator of an ambulance. A similar finding in favor of Springfield township for $180.75 against another relief recipient was also listed.

Not a justice of the peace in Richland county was listed in the findings.

Urges Action On Leather Shortage

COLUMBUS — (AP) — In a telegram to Reconversion Administrator John R. Steelman in Washington Gov. Frank J. Lausche has expressed a hope that "an expeditious and equitable adjustment will be made to assure a flow of leather to our factories."

The governor's action followed a conference with Herbert Lape, Columbus shoe industry executive, and John A. Booker, AFL Boot and Shoe Workers union representative, on the impending curtailment of shoe manufacturing by exhaustion of leather supplies. Ohio's shoe industry employs 18,000 workers.

Kiddies Like Library's 'Story Hour'

No matter whether the yarn is "Stikki-tikki . . ." or "Little Black Sambo," Mansfield children live in a land of make-believe when Miss Eva Leonard, children's librarian, begins her regular weekly "storytimes" at the public library on Tuesdays. Shown engrossed in a story in the upper left photo are a part of her audience. Left to right, front row—Mary Lou, Peggy, and Dorothy Moyer. Second row —Nancy Bowman, Judy Clever, Sheldon Berman, James Mitchell and Paul Andrew. Third row—Jack and Bessie Gougoutas, Roberta Longsdorf, and Richard and Robert Bertzlaff. Seated in the rear row are Patricia Johnston and Ellen and Mary Castrato. In the photo at the right Miss Leonard is shown telling a story to a group of 27 youngsters.

Boys, Girls Gather Every Week To Live In Make-Believe Land

By LARRY MURPHY

Every Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 a group of children meets in Mansfield Public library to live in "the land of make-believe" for a half hour during "storytime" in the children's reading room.

Aged three and one-half to 11 or 12 years, they look forward to this annual feature of the Children's library, which was resumed July 16 after a two-year break due to lack of a librarian.

All the world loves a storyteller, and that goes double for children. When Miss Eva Leonard was named children's librarian on July 1 one of her first projects was to map a program for "storytime."

Through newspaper publicity, printed programs, telephone calls and personal contacts, word was spread throughout the city that "storytime" would continue for the balance of the summer for all children of all races and creeds. The results have been gratifying to both parents and children and attendance has steadily increased since the first Tuesday story period.

ATTENDANCE GROWS TO 30 A WEEK.

Attendance averages between 25 and 30 children per week with new ones coming to listen and read every week.

Popularity of the program is reflected in the faces and actions of the children during a reading period. They sit enthralled when the story's in progress, showing their approval by laughing merrily and joyously applauding the deeds of their favorite heroes and heroines in fiction.

Particularly popular are stories laid in foreign lands and which point a moral. This week the children enjoyed an old Chinese tale entitled "Stikki-tikki-tembo-no-sa-er-pear-moski-ip-pear - pom - mischno-meno-dombre-carn."

The moral of this oriental tongue-twister is drawn from the title which is a little boy's name, and is as follows:

"If his name had been shorter, his life would have been longer."

Each story is chosen by Miss Leonard, who adapts them to the age group which predominates in her audience. Sometimes the mothers even stay and listen to the stories.

After the story period, each child is assisted in choosing reading which will be interesting and yet not too difficult.

* * *

STIRS INTEREST IN READING.

Miss Leonard says, "The purpose of these periods is to broaden the children's mental horizons, stimulate their imagination, and arouse or deepen their interest in reading, as well as to give them pleasure."

No matter how busy she may me, Miss Leonard always has time to confer with the children on their reading. An example was a little girl in the fifth grade who came to the desk with her problem to ask if a certain book would be "too easy" for her.

After this week's "storytime," the children carted home 68 books to read during the week. Each child is allowed two books at a time on his card.

Sometimes the children like to tell their own stories before the group, as did little Marilyn Jones recently, when she gave a shortened version of "The Shoemaker and the Elves."

During the winter Miss Leonard hopes that many more children will do likewise throughout the school year to encourage audience participation.

A sample of the two stories told each week is shown by the schedule for the final three summer "storytime" periods:

Aug. 13—"Giacco and His Bean," and "Gone Is Gone"; Aug. 20—"Little Tupper," and "Mr. A & Mr. P"; Aug. 27—"Guinea Pig," and "The Rabbit Who Wanted Red Wings."

SPEAKS AT PIQUA

PIQUA —(AP)— Speaking at the concluding program of Piqua's Sesqui-Centennial celebration, Gov. Frank J. Lausche yesterday praised as "the four virtues which have made America great": faith in God, hard work, obedience to law and order and devotion to community, state and nation.

Bedtime Stories

—By Thornton W. Burgess

'Tis passing strange how people live;
Some always take, while others give.

—Old Mother Nature.

"Why don't you think so?" asked Johnny.

Jenny Wren is a very small person and a very lively one. Those small bright eyes of hers miss little going on in her neighborhood. She is a busybody, is Jenny Wren. Anyway, that is what some of her neighbors think, and they don't hesitate to say so. They say that she is a great hand to poke her bill in where it has no business to be. Being so small it is easy for her to get about without being seen when she can keep her tongue still. She is a great scold and gossip and some folks think she can't keep her tongue still. She can and she does when she thinks her eyes can find out for her more than her tongue can.

Of course, Jenny knew all about the strange disappearance of three of the Vireo babies. That is, she knew all that her neighbors knew. She didn't believe that those babies had fallen from their nest.

"It might have happened to one, but it wouldn't have happened to three. No, sir, it wouldn't have happened to three. You may make up your mind to that, Johnny Wren," said she.

"That means you think Sammy Jay took them," replied Johnny Wren.

"Tut, tut, tut!" scolded Jenny Wren. "Tut, tut, tut, I didn't say that. As a matter of fact I don't think Sammy did."

"Why don't you think so?" asked Johnny.

"He might have dropped one, but he wouldn't have dropped three. No, sir, he wouldn't have dropped three," declared Jenny.

"No one knows that the last one was dropped, so he may have dropped only two," said Johnny.

"All right, call it two. Sammy Jay wouldn't have dropped two," retorted Jenny rather sharply.

"Then who do you think did take them?" demanded Johnny.

"Tut, tut, tut, tut! I didn't say I think anybody did," scolded Jenny.

"But if they didn't fall out of that nest somebody must have taken them out," Johnny Wren persisted.

"Says you," retorted Jenny, and with a toss of her head she flew away and had dodged out of sight before Johnny could follow.

Johnny didn't waste time looking for her. Long ago he learned that if Jenny didn't want to be seen she wouldn't be seen even by one who knew her and her ways as well as he did. As for Jenny, she first made sure that she wasn't followed, then as silently as if she were a tiny brown shadow she slipped in here and ducked in there, making sure that no watchful eyes saw her, until at last she popped into a hole in a dead limb. From this she could look down on the nest of Redeye and Vireo and his mate.

Where there had been five young birds in that nest there were now but two, and one of these was twice as big, yes, more than twice as big, as the other. Not only was he twice as big but he was strong and vigorous, while the smaller one was weak and could not fight at all for the food father and mother brought. As a result he got very little, being pushed aside by his big greedy companion.

"Tut, tut, tut, tut, what a shame!" scolded Jenny Wren, but to herself so that she couldn't be heard. "That is one of the children of Sally Sly the Cowbird and those soft-hearted Vireos are letting him impose on them. He wouldn't impose on me that way. No, sir, he wouldn't impose on me like that. Anyway, Johnny and I have sense enough to make our nest where Sally Sly can't get into it to leave an egg."

Just then both Redeye and Mrs. Redeye left the nest to go search for more food. Sure that both were out of sight the young Cowbird seized his little foster-sister and threw her out of the nest.

"The awful thing!" gasped Jenny Wren and hurried to tell the neighbors what had really happened to the young Vireos.

The next story: "The Neighbors Are Disgusted."

MOST PLAYERS would really like to know what their customary opponents think of their game. Are you considered conservative, aggressive or changeable? Are you thought of as a fellow who plays "by the book" or as one who is up to all kinds of artifices? Do they know if you are well equipped with knowledge of a bunch of slick stunts to try once in a while? If you can really learn what they think of your game, you can cash in on the knowledge by putting over an occasional fast one.

South was feeling plenty virile after he heard North's positive response to his two bid. So, as soon as the Blackwood response showed North holding the missing ace, he went all the rest of the way to grand slam. He realized that very little more was needed from his partner to make the grand slam, also that he himself had no bidding mechanism to find out about it, once he had hastily Blackwooded instead of bidding 3-Diamonds.

West was a nasty, mean fellow who a few nights before had led a jack from a queen-jack doubleton in trumps and thereby misled a declarer into finessing against his partner for the queen, believing the jack was surely a singleton. That had enabled West to get a trick with the insufficiently-guarded queen.

Thinking about that, he decided to try to make this declarer believe he was doing the same thing again—a fandango which could not work unless perchance his partner had the spade queen at least twice guarded; if his partner did not, then no harm could be done anyway. So he led the singleton spade J.

"Aha!" thought South. "Trying to work the same gag on me again." So South this time tried to drop the Q instead of finessing, and got himself set. If he had played just right after the spade A and K, he still could have squeezed East with a club between the spade Q and the diamond J, but this South didn't know his squeezes.

The Louisiana territory, one time claimed by LaSalle the explorer for France, was not merely the state of Louisiana, but a great sweep of territory from the Gulf of Mexico to the Canadian boundary and from the head of the Great Lakes to the foothills of the Rocky Mountains.

...Yes, when you change to MARATHON V·E·P!

V.E.P. is experience-proved, "years-ahead" oil used by so many large fleet-owners, bus lines, taxi and car-rental operators

Up to 50% longer life for your motor than you'd get with ordinary oil! As many as 50% more miles on your speedometer between costly lay-ups and overhauls due to oil failure! That's what you can count on when you change to V.E.P. For this different, patented oil has proved every claim in exhaustive laboratory tests . . . in millions of miles of road travel in commercial vehicles whose operating costs are rigidly checked. For longer motor life, for better performance, money-in-the-pocket economy in your present car—or your new one—change to experience-proved V.E.P. Oil.

- V.E.P. has a "magnetic-like" action that makes it cling to cylinder and piston walls—prevents damaging "dry" starts
- V.E.P. cleans your motor . . . keeps it clean. Reduces carbon and varnish to a minimum. Dissolves the binder that holds sludge together
- V.E.P. frees stuck valves and rings, prevents gasoline-wasting blow-by, power-stealing loss of compression
- V.E.P. has more than twice the film strength of ordinary oil

Jack Lait — On Broadway

BEST AMERICAN Divorce, and fastest, is the decree issued by Federal Judge Moore, in St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, U. S. A. . . . It takes eight hours to get to St. Thomas from New York via plane, flying the new nonstop route. . . . By a new regulation, after six weeks' residence, the decree is signed, eliminating long periods of publication and other delays pertinent to Reno or Miami divorces.

The Virgin Islands are a practically unknown paradise — few tourists, best Scotch on earth at $2.50 a fifth, cigarets 50 cents a carton, shopping for native woven products at prewar prices and your buck worth 100 cents. . . . Two American hotels—Hotel 829 and the Government-run Bluebeard's Castle—total accommodations 60 people! . . . The Virgin Islands divorce decree is the only one in the country signed by a Federal judge, who is appointed by the President. . . . No V. I. divorce has yet been contested by any State.

Lawyers feel that the Federal character of the decree puts it above protest. . . . In this tropical Capri, the city-harassed American finds new world comforts along with authentic old world atmosphere like the South Sea Islands once had. . . . Natives live in tiny huts, the beaches are blue and coral, the water crystal clear, with vast acres wild, awaiting settlement. . . . The Government—local and national — is eager to sell at ridiculously low figures. . . . At Caneel Bay, on St. John (one of the U. S. Virgin group), the most breath-taking beach on earth rests its spreading white arms in cool tropical splendor—with an average of three bathers a day! Cabanas, furnished by the U. S., are usually empty.

Atlantic City shut up tighter than ever. . . . The cops just sent the sad word around, and the wheels stopped rolling. . . . Jack Lynch, who lost his historic club on Philly's Walton Hotel roof when sudden fire regulations closed it, is hunting a new street-floor spot there; meanwhile, he wants to take over the now dark Rainbow room, in Radio City but the Rockefellers don't seem to need the money. . . . Ed Wynn (no relation to the comedian) who was top Army Transport Corps pilot in the war and flew Eleanor and Winnie across the seas, opened a daily flight to and from Saratoga, which he ambitiously calls "Trans-American".

Reported Romancing—Dr. Gregory L. Pollock, plastic sculptor, and Gail Meredith (who doesn't need any) at the Simplon. . . . Dodger infielder Stan Rojek and Phyllis Mittlefeldt, at Lum Fong's. George Moran and Ramsey Ames. . . . Jimmy McHugh and Mary Wood, starlet, starlet . . . Lionel Shelly, brewery heir to plenty, with Jean Williams, an Earl Carroll exhibit . . . Claire Trevor and John Shelton . . . Bonita Granville and Jack Wrather—well, wrather! (I'm told this one may lead down a long, solemn aisle) . . . Lew Ayres seen often with Marion Daggert . . . And Roger Wolin, Latin-American rep. for Pan-American, will wed Dorothy Gibler, of San Antonio, in Mexico City, with the Archbishop of Mexico officiating.

Pegler — Fair Enough

NEW YORK — The history of the Garsson war babies begins with testimony that Henry Garsson, who calls himself doctor, wrote a letter to the war department on the stationery of the Segal Safe and Lock company. The war department seems to have inferred that Garsson was prepared to produce war materials at a plant owned by the Segal company in the region of the Erie basin, in Brooklyn. The war department apparently did not go into Henry Garsson's personal or corporate background but gave him a letter of intent and advanced him $1,000,000, after which he branched out.

G. Hall Roosevelt, a brother of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, had been associated with the Segal company in some vague relationship.

Hall Roosevelt was implicated in the promotion of the $200,000 loan by John Hartford, of the A. and P. grocery chain, and the $25,000 loan by Charles Harwood, once a federal judge and later governor of the Virgin islands, by appointment from Franklin D. Roosevelt, to Elliott Roosevelt.

John Kantor, an old-time promoter and "finder" of loans, who had the misfortune to get 20 months in prison as a swindler, told of conversations with Hall in the course of the negotiations with Hartford. Judge, or governor, Harwood, himself, said that Hall built him up as a prospect and then gave him a rush act to get his $25,000.

Hartford was trimmed out of $196,000 and not only surrendered Elliott's notes for $4,000 but gave back the collateral stock which then was transmitted by President Roosevelt to Elliott's former wife, Ruth Googins Roosevelt Edison, in settlement of Elliott's obligations in alimony and child-maintenance.

Harwood had no notes and, although he is a lawyer and had been a judge and a successful money-maker, he never was quite sure whether he received the stock as collateral for a loan or as an investment by purchase. At any rate, he stood off Jesse Jones when Jones offered him $500, or 2 cents on the dollar, and resisted another emissary sent to him by the president and thus recouped his $25,000 when the stock recovered in value.

The ways and means committee of the house of Representatives, controlled by the Democrats, carefully avoided questioning Harwood during its investigation of the loans and explained that there was no point in calling him because it was concerned only with defaulted loans on which the lenders had claimed tax deductions.

In fact, the committee relied entirely on the record of the testimony taken by the treasury and protected the Roosevelts' father and son, as much as it was able, whereas a general inquiry honestly pursued, would have produced interesting information concerning Hall Roosevelt's activities supplementary to the facts thus far obtained in the Garsson case.

Last winter, after Harwood's loan had been exposed and his refusal to cooperate to the extent of kicking back $24,500 toward the alimony fund which the president was arranging for his son at the expense of trusting suckers, Harwood was fired from the Virgin islands job, Charles Ross, President Truman's secretary, in announcing the appointment of Harwood's successor, said he didn't know whether Harwood had resigned. He was just through.

Hall Roosevelt was observed often at the Segal company's premises in Brooklyn, but appears never to have been an officer of the firm. He died in Sept. 1941. Garsson's approach to the war department on the Segal letterhead was made in 1942, according to the testimony. Hall's obituary reported that he had served as controller of the city of Detroit for a time during the depression, and as chairman of an unemployment bureau formed by Mayor Murphy. He left an estate of $295,395 and as liabilities a tax deficiency of $20,000 and about $700 in debts to New York night clubs and hotels.

Hal Boyle — Globe-Jotting

(For Hal Boyle)

STEIN, Germany—(AP)—Johnny Novel, 90 pounds soaking wet, with two years as a GI behind him, wants to become an American soldier.

He wears the uniform, he smokes Virginia tobacco, he drinks Kentucky bourbon, he speaks Brooklyn, he eats K-rations (when he has to) and he does a man's work on jeeps and command-reconnaissance cars.

He wears a good conduct medal bestowed by the late General George S. Patton, jr. He captured two German soldiers. He has been shot in the foot and he has shot at some of Hitler's finest troops —"I think I hit some of them."

But Johnny is not an American soldier.

He's just a French kid with the heart of a Joffre, the hatreds of a Clemenceau and a LaFayette's love of Americans.

Johnny Novel "adopted" the United States Army first; now he wants the army and the country to adopt him.

Johnny says he's 17. He isn't more than four feet ten and that 90 pounds is the McCoy. If he is 17, so am I. But he tells that whopper bravely and backs it up with a phoney looking pass—no genuine Frenchman would be without all kinds of passes.

Johnny swaggers around the infantry motor pool in this little town outside Nuernberg where Faber made his pencils. He does an honest day's work for his rations. The GI's keep him supplied. His pal, Sgt. Robert J. Luther of Huntington, W. Va., keeps him out of trouble, although that isn't easy.

Johnny says he was orphaned at three in a small French town not far from Paris. He languished in an orphanage . . . "rice and water, phooey!"

He was there when Patton's Third army came racing through France at breakneck speed. That was for Johnny. He met an advance unit of the Fifth division and "joined up" for an indefinite hitch.

A sergeant took Johnny under his wing. The kid rode tanks and jeeps. He scrounged for his outfit, he carried ammo boxes. No higher than a grasshopper, he carried a carbine and used it.

One night his keen young ears heard a tick-tock in the field where seven or eight GIs were sleeping. He awakened them and, as he tells it now: "That was a helluva sounding clock. And I said so."

The "clock" was a booby trap bomb about to go off. Patton heard about that and personally pinned a conduct medal and a pfc's stripe on Johnny's slim sleeve.

Johnny and "his" company crossed the Rhine in a rubber boat. He was a veteran at what he called 15. With the facility of youth he picked up Americanese —the rugged kind—and almost lost his French accent.

The war's end knocked the props out from under Johnny. His sergeant tried to sneak Johnny aboard a ship at Bremen but he was caught. There Sergeant Luther found him. So Johnny had a new protector with a fresh three year hitch in the regular army. Luther, now 35, expects to leave the army in two years and four months. He wants to raise chickens in Huntington with Johnny Novel as helper and co-partner. Johnny snorts at that.

"You're chicken enough now," he tells Luther but that's just a kid's wisecrack covering up real affection. If he doesn't get to the United States with Luther there may be a tear or two in those big brown eyes. He never wants to return to France.

"That's for sure," says Johnny, all he wants to be now is a soldier in the United States Army.

ARGUMENT WITH POLICE BRINGS JAIL SENTENCE

Driver Accused of Operating Car Without License Found Guilty in Court.

A West Fourth street man was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail today in municipal court on a charge of driving while his license was revoked, but a disorderly conduct charge against his wife was dismissed.

Don Remy, 110 West Fourth street, pleaded innocent to the driving charge. He claimed that he drove "on police order."

Officers denied that they ordered him to drive. They said they ordered a car in which Remy was sitting to be moved from Armory property about 3 a. m. Wednesday. Later they discovered Remy driving and booked him on the revoked license charge, they said.

Police further testified in court that Remy's wife, Dorothy, refused to come into police headquarters for questioning after the car was driven there.

Three other cases were dismissed today, including charges against G. W. Riggleman, 52, of Mansfield, R. D. 2, of conveying liquor to an inmate at the Mansfield reformatory.

Just Sold Candy.

Court attaches said that Riggleman's attorney admitted that candy had changed hands between Riggleman and a prisoner, but no liquor. They said that when the inmate was found with a bottle of wine he "put the finger on Riggleman."

Also dismissed were assault and battery charges filed against Jimmy Walters, 217½ North Diamond street, by his wife, Ethel, and a charge against Truck Driver Robert Scranton, of Lodi, R. D. 1, of driving a truck on the wrong side of a highway.

Fined $10 and costs each on speeding charges were Sylvester Blubaugh, 138 West Third street; Richard James, 196 Mapledale avenue; William Brubach, 128 Boughton avenue, and Ida Roberts, Mansfield, R. D. 1. Robert Goettl, 693 Maple street, was fined $5 and costs on a charge of operating a motor vehicle with an insufficient muffler. Three of the speeding charges were filed by state highway patrolmen.

A $25 bond was forfeited by George E. Mumma, Winnetka, Ill., when he failed to appear for hearing on a speeding charge.

CHILD KILLED WHILE AT PLAY

Bucyrus Child, 7, Dies When Revolver's Discharged By Companion.

BUCYRUS — William "Billy" Boyer, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Boyer, was killed yesterday when a souvenir revolver in the hands of a playmate was discharged, Bucyrus police said.

Officers said Franklin Barth, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Barth, pointed the gun at the Barth home and pulled the trigger. The Boyer child was in the line of fire and suffered a fatal wound in the head. He died instantly.

The revolver, a war souvenir of an older brother of Franklin, was found by police in a shed at the rear of the Barth home where the boys were playing. Franklin could not explain how the gun happened to be loaded, police said.

Besides the parents, three sisters, Iris, Yvonne, Sally Ann, and Elaine, survive.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 2 p. m., at the Wise funeral home. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery.

7 DISCHARGED

Area Men Released By Navy at 3 Separation Centers.

Mansfielders released included: Ensign Edward W. Art, 248 Bartley avenue, at Great Lakes, Ill.; Richard C. Reggenbach, seaman first class, R. D. 4, at Charleston, S. C.; and Chester R. Rader, fireman first class, and Lester R. Rader, fireman first class, at Bremerton, Wash.

Police Find No Gambling

ASHLAND—A follow-up search for gambling devices in six private Ashland clubs Thursday afternoon resulted in no arrests or confiscations, police said today.

Officers searched the Phoenix club, the American Legion home, the Veterans of Foreign Wars home, the Elks and Eagles lodges, and the Miller Supper club, but no machines were found in operation, they said.

3 Boys Ordered To Apologize For Pranks Last Halloween

Retribution for their Halloween pranks last fall was a long time coming, but three Lucas teen-age boys were paying the penalty today.

Convicted of being delinquent through their vandalism in tipping over a number of U. S. mail boxes in and around Lucas and Little Washington last Oct. 16, the three boys today were apologizing to the owners of the boxes.

Juvenile Judge S. H. Cramer heard the boys confess and then put them on probation to the court for one year, ordered their parents to report to the court each 60 days, and ordered the boys to pay for the expense of erecting the mail boxes again and to apologize to their victims.

The retribution came after months of investigation by Postal Inspector R. C. Alexander, the sheriff's department and juvenile authorities.

A fourth boy who was out of the state when the three were arraigned is to be tried on a similar charge at a later date.

CHILD DIES

Garrison Baby Succumbs at General Hospital.

Nora Alberta Garrison, seven-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Garrison, 97 Waring avenue, died yesterday at Mansfield General hospital after an illness of three weeks. The child was born June 16.

Surviving, besides the parents, are one brother, Francis L.; one sister, Carol Ann; and the grandparents, Mrs. Nora Garrison of Washington, D. C., and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Wynn of Mansfield.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 1 p. m. at the Wappner funeral home, in charge of Rev. Samuel U. J. Peard, rector of Grace Episcopal church. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

2 Industrial Workers Injured

Two Mansfielders received minor injuries while at work yesterday and were treated at General hospital before being released to their homes.

Jude Rippy, 52, of Mansfield R. D. 1, suffered lacerations on the back of his left hand while loading pipe on a trailer for R. O. Darling, contractor.

Gets Appeal From Germany

If you can read English as written by a German you may be able to help an apparently needy family in Frankfurt, Germany.

A letter from there, addressed to "On the Chief Mayor of Mansfield," was received yesterday by Mayor Roy W. Vaughn.

Although the signature and address are hard to decipher, the body of the letter is easy to read:

It says: "two friends of the American nation with their families from hungry Germany thank you with all their hearts if you will help over the need time with a packet of victuals and cigarets."

The plea closes: "we thank you heartily in advance." The letter was passed by the U. S. civil censor. The signature appears to be "H. Voipel." The address, however, is practically impossible to read—unless you know German.

FESTIVAL ON, RAIN OR SHINE

300 Watermelons Put on Ice For Annual Party at Johns Park Tonight.

Rain or shine, the Johns Park association will stage its 35th annual watermelon festival at the park tonight.

Three hundred melons were put on ice last night at the park in preparation for tonight's affair. Serving will start at 5:30 p. m., with sandwiches, cake, ice cream, soft drinks, popcorn and candy being sold in addition to the watermelon.

Entertainment during the evening will include a soft ball game at 4 p. m., between the Ringside Juniors and the North End Wildcats, and another game at 6 p. m. between Johns park and the St. Matthew's Lutheran church.

Music for the festival, which annually attracts hundreds of Mansfielders, will be provided by the Liberty park band under the direction of Frank Dekrell. Dawson Maxwell, president of the Johns Park association, is general chairman of the affair.

Mrs. Atterholt To Be Buried Sunday

Funeral services for Mrs. Bertha Atterholt, 65, who died Wednesday night at the home of her sister, Mrs. Chloa Harpster, 109 West Luther place, will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Methodist church in Hayesville. Burial will be made in the Hayesville cemetery.

A resident of Mifflin, Mrs. Atterholt is survived by her husband, J. H. Atterholt of Mifflin; two sons, Clair of Reedsburg and Don of Detroit, Mich.; one daughter, Mrs. Clarence McBride of Nova; five other sisters besides Mrs. Harpster, Mrs. Flora Hostettler of Lakeford, Mrs. Emma Vanderhoff of Findlay, Mrs. Elsie Spreng of Jeromesville, Mrs. Sylvia Springer of Ashland and Mrs. Ida Leech of Hayesville, and one brother, Dr. Herbert Coble of Tipp City.

The body will be removed from the Fickes funeral home in Jeromesville to the family home in Mifflin late Saturday and removed to the church at noon Sunday.

Conduct Rites For Mrs. Dora Cisney

Funeral services for Mrs. Dora Cisney, 80, widow of Lee Cisney, who died Wednesday at the Hammond rest home after an illness of four months, were to be conducted at 1:30 p. m. today at the Wappner funeral home by Rev. O. W. Aughbaugh. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

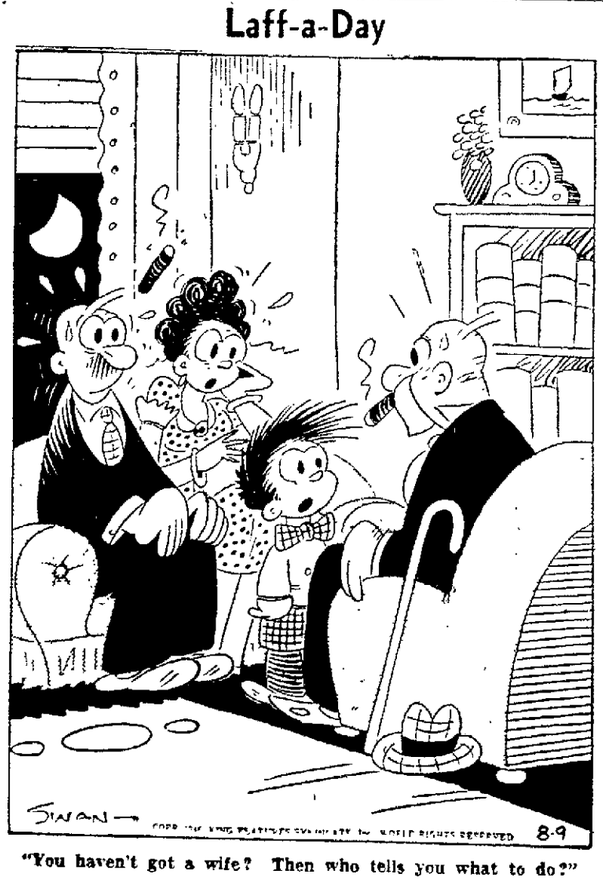
She is survived by two sons Harry Sharp, of Cleveland, and Lester Sharp, of Hamilton; two sisters, Mrs. Harvey Chestrown, of Greenwich, Mrs. Ella Fogel, of Shelby; one grandson, John Sharp, and three great-grandchildren.

Born in Lexington, Mrs. Cisney was a life resident of this vicinity.

DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Mrs. Glenn Hazlett, 245 West Fourth street, has learned of the death of her cousin, Austin K. Stevenson, formerly of Mansfield, of a heart attack in Oakland, Calif. He was 60 years old.

Laff-a-Day



"You haven't got a wife? Then who tells you what to do?"

HOPE REVIVED.

One of the most unusual requests ever to come to the attention of the Mansfield Veterans Administration office was received yesterday when Edward F. Haynia, 75 Floral avenue, Tenafly, N. J., wrote asking help in locating his son, Edwin, believed to be in Mansfield. The elder Haynia wrote that although his son had been reported killed in action in a plane collision near Mannheim, Germany, Dec. 30, 1944, two persons visiting Mansfield, who knew the boy, claimed they saw him while passing through the city.

The father holds some hope that the boy escaped from Germany and believes he may be an amnesia victim, now living here. The missing son is 25 years old with blue eyes and brown hair. He is 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighs 160 pounds.

CLAIMED—

Jack Stout, 92 Marshall avenue, is a sorry—yet happy—fellow today. That cocker spaniel with the Texas license was claimed by its owner. The owner, who lives in Alameda, Calif., and was visiting here, said the dog just wandered off. Stout found the pup and turned it over to police and had put in his bid for the cocker —"if the owner doesn't claim it."

* * *

TOPS THEM ALL—

We think maybe the peak has been reached—in hollyhocks, that is. Today, all previous records were smashed when Mrs. J. O. Long of Bellville wrote that she has a white hollyhock 12 feet tall! The hollyhock "derby" started Tuesday when this column carried the story that Miss Rebecca Grubaugh, 392 West Fourth street, had a lovely pink-flowered plant 10 feet, two inches tall in her back yard. The next day, Mrs. Lulu B. Mast, South Main street road, reported she had an 11-foot hollyhock, and yesterday, M. K. Leggett, 28 Wellington avenue, reported his uncared-for specimen was 10 feet, four and three-quarters inches tall.

Chatter . . .

Mrs. Helen Hayes and daughter, Geneva, of Black Lick, Pa., visiting for two weeks with Mrs. Irene Davis, 96 West Second street. . . . William Bell, jr., Mansfield, R. D. 4, being signed up for membership in the Amvets by Committeeman Al Myers. . . . William Mead telling Floyd Dent that he is going to "look after" Harold Arlin while on two-week camping trip in Canada. . . . Atty. Donald E. Smith discussing veterans' affairs over the breakfast counter. . . . D. A. McCullough and R. B. Gardner making train reservations for the American Legion national convention in San Francisco this fall. . . . Mrs. Harry Bogner awaiting the arrival of a new piano on order for some time.

* * *

Word being received here that Ex-Mansfielder Kenneth R. Booze, much-decorated former army sergeant, has received the Italian cross of military valor to add to his collection. Booze, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Booze, Mansfield R. D. 2, now resides in Bend, Oregon. He has also received 2 Purple Hearts, the Silver Star, Bronze Star, Distinguished Service Cross and Oak Leaf Cluster.

DIRECTOR SAYS APPROVAL OF PLANS DUE SOON

Conservancy District, Army Engineers in Agreement on Project Design.

Service-Safety Director William W. Enlow said today that in about three weeks the city "should be in a position" to advertise for bids for the construction of the Clear Fork reservoir dam.

He said that Muskingum Conservancy officials and army engineers "are in agreement on the basic design of the dam," but added that "certain minor changes" will have to be made before the two groups will finally approve the plans.

Once these changes are made and the approval of the state board of health is given, the bids can be advertised for, he said. This should take about three weeks, he added.

A mid-July advertising date had been set previously pending approval of the three agencies, but the plan changes necessitated pushing the date ahead, Enlow indicated.

Reach Agreement.

At a meeting in Huntington, W. Va., yesterday with army engineers and conservancy officials, Enlow said that agreement was reached on the dam's basic design. The state health board has also reviewed the plans but as yet hasn't notified the city of its decision.

The city has already purchased or scheduled for purchase soon some 1,797 acres of reservoir land, leaving about 350 acres to be bargained for.

The $800,000 reservoir project is being designed to up the city's water supply by some three million gallons a day. It is expected to go into operation in 1948.

LUX GAMBLERS CAN'T GET OFF

LONG BEACH, Calif. — (U.P.) — Fifteen hundred gamblers were marooned today aboard "Admiral" Tony Cornero Stralla's gambling ship Lux, apparently pawns in a battle over its operation.

Stralla, arrested yesterday just 48 hours after the ship's fabulous opening, refused to allow use of his water-taxis or taxi crews to remove the patrons from his floating casino.

"You impounded the boats; you get them off," he told officials.

Long Beach police last night stopped service to the ship, anchored five miles offshore, by arresting the taxi crews, but offered immunity for removing the patrons Stralla and the water taxi operators refused the offer.

The coast guard was alerted for possible cases of hysteria aboard the Lux and the cutter Yankton went out to remove a woman patron with acute appendicitis.

Stralla and his aides were charged with conspiracy to violate state gambling laws and the taxi boats were impounded in a double attack police hoped would scuttle the Lux.

Whether the ship would be permitted to operate during the long court fight over its legality remained in doubt. County officers expected Stralla to try to get a writ preventing a threatened raid on the Lux by surrendering with four of his aides yesterday and posting $2,000 bond each. Stralla was back on his boat in two hours. His preliminary hearing was set for Aug. 22.

Ask Jury To Probe Sheriff's Books

MILLERSBURG—Holmes county commissioners today had asked Prosecutor Raymond Miller to turn the alleged irregularities of Harry R. Weiss, former Holmes county sheriff, over to the grand jury for investigation.

The request was in the form of an unrecorded resolution passed unanimously at a meeting of the commissioners Monday but revealed only yesterday.

If Prosecutor Miller acts on the request the grand jury will conduct the investigation during its September term, it was said.

Weiss, who was ousted from his position as sheriff on the recommendation of state examiners who claimed irregularities in the pay checks of deputies, yesterday filed as a candidate for the unexpired portion of the sheriff's term.

It's OK to 'Listen In' If Phone User Gets Tip On Tap

WASHINGTON—(U.P.)—The federal communications commission has ruled that the recording of telephone conversations is all right—if it is done openly.

The commission added, however, that notice should be given to all parties to a conversation that a recording device is being used. An automatic tone warning repeated at regular intervals, should be used, the FCC said. This notice should be supplemented by placing stars in the telephone directory against the names of subscribers with recording attachments, it added.

The FCC directed telephone companies and recorder manufacturers to put on a publicity campaign to educate the public to the meaning of the warning signal. In hearings on the problem, telephone companies opposed use of records. They said that there are still people who don't recognize the dial tone and couldn't be expected to understand a recording signal.
